MPC has busy night

St. Albert's Municipal Planning Commission had a busy time Tuesday night looking over applications for a $500,000 expansion to the Associated Medical Clinic on St. Michael Street, an office commercial development on the St. Albert Trail and a 46 unit-five storey apartment block near Green Grove Drive.

MPC also looked at plans for a new court house on the north side of St. Anne Street and the extension of Grandin Road.

Dr. W. Skrobot was before the commission with his proposal for a 110 foot by 10 foot expansion of the medical clinic, but the main objection to the plan was in the selling of the right of way, because of resultant parking difficulties.

It was finally agreed by the MPC that the matter of selling the right of way should be referred to council but that the development should be approved in principle.

Dr. D. R. LeDrew was also in front of the commission with a proposal for a commercial/office development just above the St. Albert United Church on the St. Albert Trail. This was referred to council so that the council could advertise its intention to change the land use. Some concern was expressed by the MPC, notably MPC member Bill Shields that the spot zoning route could be fraught with danger. The idea was that council should stick by the General Plan.

MD Sturgeon may revert to county system

A move may be made by the MD of Sturgeon to return to the county system it was learned at the regular meeting of the MD of Sturgeon last week.

The move seems largely influenced by fears that the Sturgeon School Division No. 24 is becoming too powerful in its own right if a comment by the Reeve of Sturgeon Bill Flynn is anything to go by.

Referring to conflicts at school boards in the Counties of Strathcona and Leduc Reeve Flynn said: "School authorities are in the event of building an empire and over-riding the county council."

If the county system does return to the MD of Sturgeon it could mean a re-election, a free for all where the six Sturgeon school board members and the eight member Sturgeon council would fight for 11 seats on the revamped MD of Sturgeon. The school board would wither to committee status and would therefore have less power in handling its own finances.

But what seems to have sparked the whole debate between the MD of Sturgeon and the Sturgeon School Division is the expensive renovation proposal for the Cunningham School. The school division planned on moving into the renovated premises, with the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Board having to seek other premises by April 1.

After the MD meeting last week all this could be changed.

Motion after motion was carried to bring the school board into line, the final motion suggesting that the Regional Recreation Board be given a time extension to stay in the Cunningham School. The Sturgeon School Board on the contrary "should be prepared to vacate to accommodate the Recreation Board" if it moved by April 1.

A motion was also carried to the effect that room would be found in any event in the Sturgeon MD building for Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance and a poultry specialist office, as well as the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Board. Alberta Hail and the poultry office also take up space in the Cunningham School.

Elected officials of both the MD of Sturgeon and the Sturgeon School Board will also be meeting soon, possibly as early as March 2, to discuss the MD returning to the county system. Other possible dates were March 3, 7, 8, 9 and 10.

It was also moved that the Minister of Municipal Affairs and the Minister of Education will be tipped on the request of the Sturgeon council that the school board submit its 1978 budget estimates under Section 121 of the School Act.

The Sturgeon School Board will have 30 days notice for the budget submission.

If the MD does revert back to county status it could mean streamlining among administrative office staff as well as elected officials.

Deputy Reeve of the MD, Lawrence Kluthe, sees the possible move as "cutting back on committee meetings."

Early in the meeting Reeve Flynn emphasized that he wanted to sit down with the Sturgeon School Division No. 24 before any moves were taken unilaterally.

"One option is to sit down with the school board - if we go into a county system, we think this is a direct approach," said the Reeve.

What jolts a little is that in a recent news release from the Sturgeon School Division it seems the division was concerned about cutting back on expenses. It was pointed out that a proposal from the school board for new office premises worked out $200,000 cheaper than a similar proposal from the MD. These proposals included possible extension of the municipal building or the renovation of the Cunningham School.

Reeve Flynn told the MD at the regular meeting the MD would be much further ahead if it put "that Please Turn to Page 2

Sturgeon Hospital could use expansion

The Sturgeon General Hospital on McKenney Avenue has recorded massive increases in patient use for 1977, way up on the previous year.

Outpatient surgery increased by almost 100 percent from 297 to 580 and large increases in the hospital's use over the past year and a half will no doubt bring pressure on the Sturgeon Hospital Board to go for expansion of the facility.

Administrator at the hospital Cliff Keyes commented however, "Even if we had the money, we could not do it without government approval."

Next largest percent increase, 38.3 percent, was registered in respiratory visits and these went up from 4,398 to 6,084.

Smallest increase was 3.4 percent with visits to the Physiotherapy Department up from 13,609 to 14,069.

Other large increases were registered in outpatients visits which were up 11.7 percent from 38,183 to 42,658.

Emergency room visits were up from 15,962 to 17,704, a 10.9 percent increase.

Laboratory unit visits were up from 136,670 to 149,512 an increase of 9.4 percent. X-ray unit use went up nine percent from 8,773 in 1976 to 9,559 last year.

THE HOSPITAL BOARD

approved a new two year contract negotiated with the Alberta Hospitals Association, which gives staff and head nurses a six percent increase effective from January 1. Also in the agreement is a cost of living increase to take effect next January.

Education committee discussing community input tonight

The Education Committee of the Protestant School Board will meet in public this evening at 7:30 in the District Office on Sir Winston Churchill Avenue to discuss the input they have received from the public.

The committee solicited the input through an advertisement appearing in the Gazette in January.

The various suggestions will be looked at by the committee in order to determine which will be accepted and the priority to be given those accepted.

Committee Chairman Wes Penner, told the Gazette indications are that culture will be the first topic under consideration.

Motions carry as Aldermen yawn

When St. Albert council passes motions long into the night, violating its own guidelines for how long council shall sit, it's all within the bounds of municipal decorum - even if tiring for councillors and press alike.

At the last council session February 20 council burned the midnight oil till 12:10 a.m. with at least two major extensions.

Even though council may violate its own guidelines, at no point are the violations illegal and motions passed while some aldermen yawn are right and proper.

As city administrator Bob Byron put it, "They have the right to set their own policy - if they break their own policy it's not a violation of any legislative requirement."

St. Albert annexation hearing this week

Local Authorities Board hearings on St. Albert's annexation application for 5500 acres south and east of St. Albert reopened yesterday in the Club Mocombo, this time with Edmonton present as an interested party.

Last spring, when the same hearing opened, it was declared that Edmonton did not have an interest in the annexation, although the city claimed that such growth would effect Edmonton in the area of transportation and utilities.

Edmonton then took its case to the Supreme Court of Alberta and a decision was handed down in Edmonton's favour.

Edmonton will cross-examine witnesses at the hearing this week, which is expected to last two days.

older people of ample financial means, and which was presented by Elmer Gish, Ethel Cuts of Retirement Holdings and Norm Tribe an engineer, that will come up at council after a slight delay. Staff will first prepare a site plan for the development bordering on Green Grove Drive and information will be given to council in 30 days.

Mr. Gish did not think noise from the Trail would be an important factor in the development. "I find it far less noisy than Waikiki from where I have just returned."

City Development Officer Barry Topolinski outlined the plan for the court house which will require that MPC give a recommendation to council on a development control resolution before going into detailed conditions for the construction of the court house.

The court house will be brick with metal facings with a green tint to fit in with the treed landscape. Parking at the site has not been resolved.

Plans for the court house are presently with the Department of Public Works and Housing. Town officials are meeting with the architect Thursday to examine the plans.

The MPC didn't get through the whole agenda and will reconvene later to look at the Akinsdale South Land Use Alternatives review.

money into a new building" (rather than for renovating the Cunningham school).

He also said: "The Deputy Minister says it would be reasonable to alert the minister that we are concerned about certain expenditures."

Reeve Flynn hinted that the intended school board borrowings for the Cunningham School renovation might not be enough.

Councillor Walter Jerram said: "It would be a good idea if council met with the school board and let them know what our intentions are, in a case like this they might back down...."

Councillor Clay Crozier said: "I support the thinking that we should go into the county system ... but there could be problems in the municipal system as well as a county system."

He added that the MD should use the legislation under the Municipal Act and the School Act to cope with the divisional school board.

Reeve Flynn also said the MD would have more control over its budget in the county system.

Campaign promise sparks fast action on vandalism

Protestant School Board trustees moved action on three recommendations brought before them as information at Wednesday's regular board meeting.

The recommendations appeared in a preliminary report on vandalism prepared by the administration and submitted to the Board for additional input. However, Board members felt it was important to begin action in at least some areas as soon as possible.

Trustee Wes Penner moved that the recommended action regarding accurate reporting and accounting of acts of vandalism be instituted as quickly as possible. He felt there was no point delaying in an area which was obviously going to be moved on anyway.

The reporting and accounting of vandalism will take place on a standardized form (the second recommendation) which will enable the administration to pinpoint high risk areas and times of occurrence as well as costs. The information will help the administration in preventing future occurrences.

Most interesting of the recommendations to be acted upon was one calling for the implementation of a reward system in some schools in the system next year.

The reward system, similar to one currently in place in a San Francisco suburb, would see schools granted a sum of money based on pupil enrollment. The schools would pay vandalism costs out of this sum and any left over would be the schools to use as they wished.

Hopefully this system would inspire more responsibility in the pupils to take care of their schools. Peer pressure would help prevent acts of vandalism by individuals which would affect the student body as a whole.

Presently the District is looking at implementing the program in at least two schools and as many as four for the coming school year.

The new W.D. Cuts school in Lacombe Park will almost definitely be included in the program. School principal, Barry Findlater has expressed his desire to co-operate in the program and a new building would be an excellent choice for a study of the program's effects.

Paul Kane High School is also a likely candidate for the program. The high school, along with junior highs in the district, receive the brunt of vandalism occurring during school hours when the program will be in effect.

The reward program details are currently being ironed out by the administration and the specifics will come before the Board at its March 22 meeting.

The program was selected from among several preventative measures studied. These included student patrols who would operate a hallway monitoring system, security guards (found to be more suitable to a ghetto-like environment), 24 hour custodians similar to those employed by the Edmonton Board in some of its larger schools (deemed too great an expense for the St. Albert system given the size of its schools), after hours parent patrols, dogs inside the buildings (too expensive and dangerous), neighbours reporting suspicious persons on the school grounds (tried a few years ago and will likely be promoted again), school design itself (may prove valuable in future planning), an on-site live-in custodian similar to those used in the Sturgeon School Division (expensive), etc.

Several other recommendations are also included in the report and the Board will be asked to look at these in their final form at the March meeting.

Cost to the Protestant District ran around the $8,500 mark last year in very conservative figures. Further information on the report on vandalism will be forthcoming in next week's Gazette.

Blodgett reading Saturday at Bookshelf

Translating the extraordinary images of Van Gogh to poetic form is something of a literary challenge -- one that has been accepted by local poet Ted Blodgett. In his new book of poems entitled "Soundings," Mr. Blodgett pays tribute to the work of the nineteenth century expressionist painter and in doing so has given new form to familiar visions.

St. Albert will have a chance to acquaint themselves with Prof. Blodgett's newest work, when he gives a reading at the Bookshelf, in the Professional Building on Saturday, March 4 at 8 p.m.

High rate of thefts from vehicles

The RCMP in St. Albert have had an unusually high rate of complaints regarding theft from vehicles. These vehicles have been noted to be unlocked and valuable items left on the front seat in plain view of the public.

Drivers are advised that all doors should be locked, keys taken out of the car and any valuable items that must be left in the car be placed in the trunk or under the seat out of sight.

Remember that items left in plain view are a temptation to some people and the chances are a theft will occur.

Teachers will have to wait for keys

Trustee Shirley McCaffery's controversial notice of motion which called for keys to be made available more to school staff members was defeated 4-0 in her absence at last Wednesday's regular meeting of the Protestant School Board.

Two Board members - Wes Penner and Gary Hodgins - brought their own motions to the meeting which called for greater input by administration and others who would be using the keys.

The trustees were in agreement that a key policy should be derived from a broader base which would include a review of security and financial implications as well as the needs of users.

Financial considerations include the cost of replacing the security lock barrels (if keys are lost) and the keys themselves. Barrel replacement runs at $40 per barrel (exclusive of labour) and keys are specially cut at $2.50.

A Mr. Osgood, spokesman for a group of teachers present at the meeting, preceded discussion on McCaffery's motion. He pointed out that the present policy was affecting teacher morale. Teachers were often frustrated when they wished to return to the school for work. Greater accessibility would help the teachers do a better job for themselves and ultimately for the district.

At present the principal of the schools are each assigned eight keys. These are then controlled and issued by him for teacher use on weekends.

Schools in the district are open to teachers until 11:30 p.m. from 8 in the morning during the week. To gain admittance on the weekends (if a key has not been obtained from the principal) teachers can phone a security man at a given number and given time to arrange to get into the school.

The administration will spend the next three weeks collecting further input which will appear in a report to the Board on March 22.

The present key policy was derived in the early 1970's following complaints by the RCMP and the Board's insurance company that school doors were being left open. At that time standard locks were used with no control over the number of keys that might be duplicated or lost.

In a presentation at Grandin Mall Wednesday night, 3rd St. Albert Division guide, Charlene Muir (centre), receives the Cathy Taylor award for Outstanding Girl Guide of St. Albert. Presenting the award is St. Albert Division Commissioner Pat Corbett, while on the right is Sturgeon River District Charlotte Jeffares. The permanent plaque was presented at Ronald Harvey School, Tuesday night.

Charlene Muir receives award

On Tuesday, February 21, at a Parent/Daughter dinner held by the 3rd St. Albert Guide Company, Division Commissioner Pat Corbett presented Charlene Muir with the Cathy Taylor Memorial Award. This award is presented annually to a St. Albert Guide who has made an outstanding contribution to the Girl Guide Movement.

Charlene joined Brownies in 1970 and in 1973 was enrolled in the 3rd Guide Company. During the past four years, she has been a second, patrol leader and now a Company leader.

She is presently a Packie with the 3rd Brownie Pack. In June 1977, Charlene received her All Round Cord and in October 1977 she was presented with the Canada Cord, the highest award a Canadian Guide can achieve.

Charlene Muir is the 6th St. Albert Girl Guide to have received this award.

At a similar presentation Wednesday night at Grandin Mall, Miss Muir was presented with the "keeper" trophy.

Whole family rallies to quit smoking habit

In these health conscious times, many Canadians are attempting to renounce the cigarette habit. However, when an entire family throws themselves into this worthy endeavour, their efforts deserve notice.

A St. Albert family, who between them have smoked for 34 years, have enrolled themselves in the Sturgeon Health Unit's Stop Smoking Course, and have pooled their resources to fight the "demon weed."

Mr. Jake DeChamplain, his wife Bobby and their two sons Darcy and Darren have decided that their smoking habits are too wasteful of health and money and have set their sights on quitting. Mr. DeChamplain has smoked for 20 years, his wife for 10 and their 14 and 16 year old sons for two years each. In total they have been spending an average of $120 per month on cigarettes. The DeChamplains concluded this money would be well spent elsewhere, and since quitting have bought themselves a pinball machine, to have fun and provide them with an outlet for nervous fingers.

Mr. DeChamplain has an allergy to cigarette smoke, which tends to nauseate him. However, like most smokers, he endured this side effect for many years because of his dependence on tobacco. All this has changed however. He reports now that he can eat breakfast in the morning, a treat that smoking had deprived him of for many years.

Both the DeChamplain boys began smoking two years ago, an act which proved upsetting for their mother. But, like most parents, there was little she could do. However, when Darcy had to do a project on smoking at school, the family became strongly aware of the dangers and decided to take action. Since that time over a week ago, all report improved health, although they laughingly refer to a little edginess that has infected them as a result of withdrawal. This is a temporary condition however, and the DeChamplains do not seem daunted by it. They are quick to point out the value of the Health Unit course, without which they say they could not have made the change.

Part of town hit by power cuts

The Mill Drive, Mount Royal Drive and the Mission Avenue areas of St. Albert were hit by a series of power cuts February 24.

A spokesman for Calgary Power told the Gazette Tuesday the cuts were pre-arranged interruptions to replace rotten power poles which carried main line feed into the areas affected.

There were two different cuts, one which lasted from 9 a.m. till 12:30 p.m. and another from 1 p.m. till 4 p.m.

Deportation laws changed in new immigration act

By mid 1978 Canadians will have a new Immigration Act.

This means that the laws concerning the selection of suitable immigrants for Canada; the denial of entry or expulsion of unsuitable individuals and the role of Canada in international affairs concerning refugees, have all been re-examined and, in many cases, changed.

The importance of provincial consultation will be acknowledged in the Act. The minister responsible for immigration will be required to consult with the provinces on their immigrant distribution, population, and labour market needs; and, publicly announce national immigration levels.

The principles concerning non-discrimination with regard to race, ethnic origin, colour, religion, or sex will not change; and the "point" system of selection will still be used. Points will be used to assess the individual's capability for successful settlement in Canada including such areas as education, training, occupational demand, etcetera.

Sponsored dependents of Canadian residents are not subject to the point system and are required only to be in good health and be of good character.

Important changes have been made in the medical health area, where, the denial of entry for those with diseases specifically listed in the Old Act, such as epilepsy, will no longer apply.

Those who have previously been denied entry on this basis will be allowed to re-apply when the new Act is proclaimed.

ELIGIBILITY FOR ENTRY

Some of the most important sections of the new Act are those dealing with immigrant selection, that is, who is eligible for entry into Canada and who is not.

Basically, there are two types of persons who seek admission to Canada; visitors, seeking temporary residence, such as tourists or students; and immigrants, seeking permanent residence.

Temporary residents must be able to establish that they are self-supporting for the duration of their visit. Students and others wishing to work temporarily must obtain authorization to work while still abroad.

Although non-residents must still meet the basic admission standards designed to protect public health and maintain national security, the principles of family reunification and humanitarianism have now been officially recognized in the Act.

Permanent residence requirements will be primarily based on the applicant's ability to settle successfully in Canada. In addition to the "point" system in selection, other considerations include knowledge of English or French, employment opportunities in the area of destination and whether or not the individual has relatives in Canada who would be able to provide assistance if necessary.

For the first time, the Immigration Act will acknowledge Canada's obligations, under a United Nations Convention, to protect refugees. "Convention" refugees are generally described as persons who have a well-founded fear of persecution because of their racial, religious or political opinions and are unwilling to return to their native country. Furthermore, persons recognized as refugees who come into Canada may not subsequently be deported unless it is established that a threat to national security or public order exists.

APPEALS AND DEPORTATION

Deportation, often considered a drastic response to relatively minor violations of immigration law will, under the new Act, be provided with two less permanent alternatives. Rather than deporting a visitor for committing a minor infraction of the Act a "departure notice" may be issued. This notice requires only that the individual leave Canada with an option to reapply for entry at any time without being discredited in future applications.

Another measure that responds to minor offences of immigration law is the "exclusion order," where the applicant is allowed to either withdraw their application or be barred from readmission to Canada for one year.

If, due to more serious offences of legislation, a deportation has been ordered, a resident may dispute the order through recourse provided in the new Act.

The three systems of recourse are a revised inquiry system, an Appeal Board and, in exceptional cases, a Special Advisory Board.

The Appeal Board will listen to evidence contesting the legality of the removal order as well as evidence that entry should be granted on humanitarian or compassionate grounds.

In more isolated instances, where the Minister responsible for immigration and the Solicitor General are in possession of information relating to the activities of subversion, terrorism or serious crime of a permanent resident, a meeting of a "Special Advisory Board" will be called.

REFUSAL FOR ENTRY

The basic premise of rejection of entry applications established by the present Act will be maintained in the new Act. That is, individuals who pose a threat to public health, safety, order or national security will be refused admission.

All entrants to Canada are subject to an examination by a medical officer. When assessing an applicant's overall physical and mental condition, the officer considers such factors as: the risk to public health from communicable diseases, the risk to public safety from uncontrollable behaviour, the demand likely to be placed on health care and other public services and the overall potential for leading a productive life.

If an applicant is considered to be a threat to public health or safety, at least one other medical officer must be of the same opinion before that person can be declared inadmissible.

Those who have been convicted of past violations will have their cases reviewed according to the seriousness of the offence would hold under Canadian law.

New provisions have been added to exclude persons who may not have been convicted for a criminal offence but who are known to be involved in organized crime, or who are likely to engage in acts of violence.

These assessments would be based on confidential information about known criminals or terrorists provided by enforcement and security agencies.

Valentine dance at Youville

A very enjoyable Valentine dance was held at the Youville auditorium on Tuesday evening, February 14. It is a yearly event sponsored by the Youville Auxiliary - and always eagerly looked forward to by the residents of the Home.

The St. Albert branch of the Starlite Knights of Columbus orchestra headed by Danny Boisvert on violin, his daughter Marianne at the piano, guitarist Bob Pampu and as guests Eldege Arcand on violin and J. P. Roy on the accordion provided all of two hours of a variety of lively dance music to please very taste. Proof of this was that the dance area was well filled for every number.

Armand Savoie was the amiable emcee who as ever does a super job in that role. The floor-manager - well who else but our Ed Savoie - kept everyone laughing with his own special brand of clowning! He also proved his dancing ability with his fast jiggling, much to the delight of the audience. Tony Deschenes, as guest soloist, added greatly to the enjoyment of all with several solos in both English and French.

Prizes galore were given out for the "spot" dances, and the non-dancers were favored as well if they happened to be seated in marked places as many were.

WHEELCHAIR DANCES

A highlight of the evening was a couple of wheelchair numbers one to a slow waltz and the other to a faster pace. As emcee Armand remarked, from his vantage point on stage, it was really heartwarming to see these handicapped patients enjoying themselves so thoroughly. He expressed it as "worth a million to see so many happy, smiling faces!"

A draw was made for the door prizes. Mr. Jean Baril, a patient at the Home, was the lucky gentleman winner while Mrs. Berthe Godbout, also of the Home, won the prize for the ladies. These two winners each received a heart-shaped box of chocolates.

Refreshments were passed around at intervals during the evening. At the conclusion of the dancing lunch was served. A beautifully decorated Valentine cake, made by the students of St. Joseph's High School in Edmonton, was a special treat.

The members of the Auxiliary offer their deepest thanks to everyone who helped in any way to make this valentine '78 such a wonderful success.

St. Albert settlers militant in 1882

The February 14 issue of the newsletter by St. Albert Historical Society contains an interesting excerpt from the December 30, 1882 edition of the Edmonton Bulletin. Controversy arose over a proposed township survey for the little mission settlement, and at the heart of it was the meandering Sturgeon River.

The colony of St. Albert is considerably excited just now and very much dissatisfied with the unjust manner in which it seems the people are to be treated. The inhabitants of this colony have occupied their lands during many years, most of them before the transfer. St. Albert has founded in 1860* by the Catholic Mission which gathered around it considerable number of settlers. At present about 200 families are established on both sides of the Sturgeon River in a radius of from six to eight miles to the east of the Mission and six miles to the west. These families are for the most part half-breeds, born and reared in the country, which certainly belongs to them according to every just title. They have indubitable rights to the land, rights which have been granted by the Manitoba Act. New settlers among us have bought land off the occupied long before the transfer. We certainly form the most ancient colony of the district and so far the most numerous. And now it would appear that our very existence is to be ignored. We are to be treated the same way as an attempt was made to treat the people of Manitoba before the troubles! Our right to a river claim survey is not to be recognized. We are told that we must be contented with a township survey. Such arrangement is both unjust and absurd for it ruin the whole settlement. Not a single old settler would not find all his improvements cut up and in most cases, lost altogether; and in many cases two, three and even four settlers would find themselves on the same half, or even the same quarter-section since the river does not form a boundary in the system of township survey. Our population is peaceful, calm and submissive, but if such injustice is to be acted toward them, if they are to be treated as a conquered people; if they are not to receive, and that in all justice, what have been given to Edmonton, Prince Albert and throughout all Manitoba, they will protest and give in to nothing short than open force.

Signed for the population of St. Albert,
H. LEDUC,

Question Period broadcast on CKUA

Alberta's legislature moves a step closer to the public when the new session opens on March 2. During the entire Spring Session, CKUA will carry coverage of the Question Period in the House each weekday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. It will be supplemented with commentary by Warren Graves, who was clerk assistant of the Legislative Assembly from 1967 to 1974.

As Mr. Graves explains it, "The Question Period is not only a lively, but an important part of each legislative day. We will begin broadcasting at the opening of proceedings and we'll likely hear bills being introduced. This will allow us to explain to listeners the various stages of each piece of legislation, and any amendments, as well as carrying the Question Period itself."

The coverage of the Question Period will be broadcast Monday through Friday from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. The broadcasts will be live Monday through Thursday, but because the Friday Question Period is held in the morning, will be pre-recorded on Friday. The broadcasts continue the tradition begun years ago when CKUA was the first radio station to establish a regular legislative "beat," and the first station to broadcast commentary from the Press Gallery during House sessions.

Additionally, this coverage will serve as a study of the workings of parliamentary procedure. It will offer a springboard for further examination of the difference between parliamentary procedure and politics - politics being that which happens outside the House. The broadcasts will begin with the opening ceremonies on March 2, with the actual Question Period beginning March 3.

Listener response to this pilot project will be welcomed by ACCESS Radio CKUA at 10526 - Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 1Z7, phone 428-7595.

Epilepsy Week is Feb 27 - March 4

The Edmonton Epilepsy Association (EEA) has announced its sponsorship of Epilepsy Week in Edmonton, February 27 - March 4.

Betty Holmes, executive director of the EEA, says Epilepsy Week is being held to focus concentrated attention on the EEA's work in the community and to let people know there is a resource centre available.

Epilepsy Week is supported by Mayor Cec Purves and Premier Peter Lougheed.

Mayor Purves, in a letter to the EEA, said, "Since one in 100 people suffers from epilepsy, I share the association's concern in dispelling the myths that have surrounded this affliction for centuries. I wish to express my appreciation to the EEA and its many volunteers for its unrelenting efforts."

Premier Lougheed said he is "pleased to endorse Epilepsy Week" and called the EEA's work "highly commendable."

"It is a pleasure to learn that this agency of the United Way is using their support in such a constructive and healthy manner," Premier Lougheed said.

Mrs. Holmes said, "We want to make the general community more aware of the role each individual can play to dispell ignorance and misunderstanding."

Epilepsy is extremely common, affecting one per cent of the population, but it remains a misunderstood disorder.

The EEA distributes information books and films and speaks to interested community groups.

Staff members of the association serve on the committees of Edmonton's Interagency Council. Mrs. Holmes is a community resource person in the Convulsive Disorder Clinic held at Glenrose Hospital.

St. Albert R.C.A. (Air) C. No. 533 Squadron

Last Wednesday, #533 Squadron ventured to #12 Squadron in Edmonton for an inter-squadron sports competition. A good turnout of cadets from both squadrons made this outing a complete success and fun for all participants. Both Jr. and Sr. volleyball teams competed and though the scores were close, #533 came home winners. The cadets and officers of #533 would like to thank #12 Squadron for hosting them and for making the evening a lot of fun. #533 hopes to be able to arrange these inter-squadron visits quite regularly as it helps in exchange of ideas, as well as meeting new acquaintances. Thank you #12 for a most enjoyable evening.

The past Saturday and Sunday, was another busy weekend for our Squadron as it was that time of year to deliver phone books in the St. Albert area. An extremely good turnout of cadets, officers, Lions and some parents made this job easier and we were able to complete most areas over the weekend.

Please remember if any cadet is unable to attend parade Thursday evening, to call the Squadron at 459-7277 between 7 and 7:30 p.m. and let us know.

City approves by-pass preference

City council gave its approval Monday night of a statement of preference to the provincial government for a easterly alignment for a St. Albert by-pass. The motion stating the city's preference was made by Ald. Margaret Smith, who said that despite the fact the province favours a westerly alignment, city council should make their views known. The motion carried, with Aldermen Bakker, Thronson and Ayotte in opposition.

Council set dates for two public hearings at their

Monday night meeting. A hearing on the amendment of the zoning of Akinsdale South will be held March 20 at 7:45 p.m., while a hearing on the closure of a portion of Arlington Drive is slated for March 20 at 8 p.m. Arlington drive closure has been proposed to close access to a cul de sac.

Council gave its approval to a request from the St. Albert Day Care Centre for $3,000 in interim funding to be granted up to March 31 for the extended child care program.

The wolf... innocent victim or villain?

The wolf is usually typecast either as a villain by its enemies or as an innocent victim by its defenders.

But according to Dr. Lu Carbyn, a scientist with the Canadian Wildlife Service, the wolf is actually a mixture of both.

"People are strongly pro-wolf or anti-wolf. But actually the wolf is both a villain and non-villain," he says.

The wolf can be a ruthless killer and, contrary to some popular opinion, usually preys upon large mammals such as deer, elk, moose and bison rather than smaller animals.

But he adds that by killing, wolves play an important role in the eco-system -- keeping populations of their prey at levels where the animals won't destroy their range and suffer starvation.

And having studied wolves at close quarters for about four years in Jasper National Park, the scientist says that even when judged by human standards, the animal has its redeeming qualities.

For one thing, wolves have personality.

"I think they're a fascinating animal -- just like dogs in some ways. There's a certain stereotype to their character but there are also wide variations between individuals ... They show a wide latitude in their responses."

Wolves are social animals, interacting with a complex social structure that includes two hierarchies of dominance -- one for males and one for females. Usually only the dominant male and female in a pack mate, and the remaining adults help care for the pups by performing such tasks as "babysitting."

They have an extensive and complex set of behavioral signals," says the research scientist. "For example, they use signals that say, 'I'm coming but am subordinate', when approaching a dominant wolf."

When tamed, wolves use these subordination signals in relating to their master, who they seem to view as a dominant wolf.

ATTACKS ON HUMANS RARE

Although there have been cases of wolves attacking humans in Europe, there has been only one documented attack in North America.

"I never personally felt threatened by them. In fact I almost stepped on them once. I didn't see them because they were sleeping in tall grass," said the scientist. Please Turn to Page 8

REFLECTIONS ON CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP

By Jim McIntyre

What a scenario against which to take out Canadian Citizenship!

Last week it was Gazette man Jim McIntyre's time to swear the oath of allegiance in Edmonton's court of Canadian Citizenship. Some might think the whole exercise of the Citizenship ceremony is a little phony, just another occasion on which you pick up pieces of paper and plastic to show that you are politically and legally the equal of your fellow Canadian.

But sitting back in the courtroom before going up to the judge to swear the oath, there was time to reflect on Canada and where it is going, and what it represents.

The 66 people at the ceremony, representing 30 different nations such as Israel, Lebanon, South Africa, Britain, the Philippines, Nigeria, and Greece among others must have been impressed at some of the judicial mutterings, wise cracks which might otherwise have gone unrecorded had not a member of the print media been there to remember them all.

As a Greek went up to the judge, the judge was heard to say words to the effect of, "Greece the Cradle of Democracy, but you've slipped a little in recent years." Imagine the risks a judge would have taken in present day Greece if he had said such a thing!

Imagine the implications if the judge had said in a dictatorship, "an election is coming up so make sure you vote intelligently," making a neat little dig at Prime Minister Trudeau. But you can still say things like this in Canada and raise a laugh, not a repressed groan.

And no one could gainsay the humour of the judge when he suggested of the many ways to get rid of foreigners, one of the best was to give them Canadian Citizenship.

But the judge also emphasized that it was good for new Canadians to keep their accents, the things that made them different, the tears that might come to their eyes when they cast their minds eye back to the things of home. The judge said it would be good for Canadians to feel that way about Canada.

So it's good to become a Canadian, because, as it was pointed out, it's like a good marriage, you don't lose anything and generally you tend to gain a lot.

Again, it was impossible not to notice the background of some of those new Canadians who had come from the world's trouble spots to make a fresh start in Canada.

And that even though the corrosive influence of the world is gradually making itself felt in Canada in increased political turmoil, and the social problems and ills associated with unemployment, the country is still viable.

Sad also to think that no great leader will, as far as can be seen, emerge from the shadows to take Canada into the next crucial five years of world history; and the only call to battle it will be, will be the clucking of Joe Clark, the braying of Ed Broadbent, and the smirking bleats of Prime Minister Trudeau.

Oversupply of office space gives Vancouver tenants big break

To lure tenants into their new offices, developers in Vancouver are offering various inducements which amount to between $10 and $15 per square foot. According to the office leasing manager of A. E. LePage Western Ltd., vacancy rates are estimated anywhere from 8.6 to 11 percent.

It works to the tenants' advantage and inducements for tenants to move are remaining at unheard of levels. The most common is an allowance of $10 to $15 per square foot for tenants' improvements such as partitions, carpets and wall panelling. In a normal market developers would allow $1 or $2 at the most.

Other practices to woo tenants include paying the tenants' moving costs, free parking from three to 18 months and buying up an existing lease to enable a tenant to move.

For a tenant who will lease a good size block, from 50,000 to 100,000 square feet, for example, the goodies get better. Late last year offers peaked in Vancouver at $18 to $20 per square foot.

The Vancouver manager of Marathon Realty Ltd. said that tenant inducements being given in this oversupply situation are representing one to two years' rent on a five year lease.

Think small

Ignorance Is Bliss

Education, the story goes, is the process of changing blissful ignorance into some other kind of ignorance. And, in recent years, a surprisingly great amount of ignorance has been apparent in the wild kingdom of education.

Education has traditionally been an elitist concept: either the wealthiest or the most intellectually adept went on to the highest levels of education. The rest of the people went out into the world where they learned a lot more than most universities could explain anyway.

But our society doesn't have much time for tradition. So, less than two decades ago, the doors of academia were thrown open to everyone who could achieve very minimal standards of academic accomplishment. Almost overnight, the university degree, which had represented a reasonably meaningful achievement, became the hula hoops of our time: everyone has one but no one is really sure why.

Recently, the true value of a university degree has been reflected in astonishingly high unemployment rates for post-secondary graduates. If we can believe everything we read (and there are days when it would be nice to be able to believe even some of what we read), most university grads never do find suitable work.

With the exception of the natural sciences and, perhaps, a few of the applied social sciences such as economics and anthropology, one never did learn all that much in university that would be directly applicable to the working world. However, one learned something more important: mental discipline (which translates as the ability to learn and to think). A university degree was important because of what it signified about one's mental abilities.

Today, the universities have slashed their standards in a desperate effort to keep enrolments high. Students are graduating from university without the least concept of how to structure a paragraph or handle simple arithmetic. It has reached the point where a contemporary B.A. carries no more weight than high school graduation of two decades ago.

If it was merely a matter of students wasting an extra three or more years of their lives in the sheltered environs of academia, there would be little cause for concern. Students are people (rumours to the contrary notwithstanding) and deserve the right to determine their own intellectual destiny. However, there is a very real dollar cost for the Canadian taxpayer.

The cost of prolonging formal education is never borne by the student personally. Rather, society pays almost the entire shot. And this goes a long way towards explaining Canada's crushing tax bills. Business pays a substantial chunk of this tax bill, so higher taxes mean Canadian business is put at a competitive disadvantage compared to business in countries where formal educations are shorter.

Or, to put it another way, our university grads are having trouble finding jobs in part because it took them so long — and cost society so much — to complete their educations. And that's one lesson they aren't teaching in universities.

"Think small" is an editorial message from the Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

The return of "Flying Phil"?

The Alberta Executive of the Social Credit Party of Canada have been informed that a number of the members of the party, in Calgary, have formed a "Draft Phil Gagliardi" committee. The committee was formed to gain support to draft Phil Gagliardi, former minister of Highways in British Columbia, as a leadership candidate for the Social Credit Party of Canada. The committee will put forth a concerted effort to gain the support of the Alberta membership and the public at large. They will also attempt to gain support across the dominion.

They have had contact with a similar group in British Columbia and with individuals in other provinces and feel that support will be forthcoming. The leadership convention will be held on June 3, 1978, at the Convention Centre, in Winnipeg.

A funny thing
to Gerri Lange

Gerri Lange is a black woman with a hang up about education in America. She attended Berkeley High School in California, a school with high academic standards. At the end of Grade 12 the school counsellor told Gerri "I know you got B's but I suggest you don't go to University because there's nothing there for you people. You ought to get a job - be a hairdresser or a secretary. So she did go out and work at a number of jobs."

At 36 years, with three kids and $25 she moved back home with her mother and decided to go to college. She got 98.2 on the entrance exam. That got her "outraged" at that student counsellor and four years ago she went back to Berkeley High - "You just don't happen to get 98.2! She talked to the kids and they told her - "Don't laugh - they're still counselling us that way."

Gerri is the host of "Turnabout" the only weekly women's show on the PBS public television in the U.S. In an interview for the Christian Science Monitor she said she was "cooling it right now" but when she gains a reputation and believability she plans to speak out for herself more and for black women and men.

Fed up with hockey parents

Why is it that at this time every year, without fail, I read about some controversy about our minor hockey?

I wonder if it is because this time of year is playoff time, and some teams (or should I say some parents) are either not in first or second place, or are in jeopardy of missing the playoffs or have indeed missed the playoffs altogether.

There is always some back-stabbing about the directors of minor hockey, namely the Kinsmen Club, who either aren't doing a good organizational job, or aren't running the hockey program properly.

I wonder how many of our "concerned" parenthood would come forth and donate an extreme amount of time to run the Minor Hockey program in the event that the Kinsmen would suddenly say "stuff it," and pull out of minor hockey.

There doesn't seem to be any thought given towards the meetings, legwork, phone calling, etc., etc., by our Kinsmen, in order to run a decent minor hockey program. Conversely, the thoughts seem to be:

1) Don't you guys know what you're doing?

2) How come you guys don't do it this way, or that way, or the other way.

3) How can a director do what he did from the stands in front of 84 apparently knowledgeable hockey people?

The answer is quite simple. The Kinsmen, and I speak of their people in the Minor Hockey Committees do the best job they can, especially in the circumstances of only one arena and some very undependable outside ice.

If more of us would appreciate, instead of degrade the amount of work these people do, voluntarily, then I think the hockey program would take some very positive strides forward.

As far as I'm concerned, players, coaches and parents take our Kinsmen Minor Hockey program for granted, and because of that feeling, do not seriously contribute to the program in a positive way.

Hockey is a fast-moving game and a lot of split-second decisions are made by the players, referees and coaches and in one case by the league director mentioned in Mr. Jones' letter.

Letters to the Editor

What Mr. Jones failed to state was the fact that the referee definitely made a questionable call and the director was concerned enough to come down to the timekeeper's box and suggest to the referee that the goal be disallowed because of a rule infraction.

The referee then changed his decision and disallowed the goal. You spoke of harassment Mr. Jones. Harassment is a mild word compared to the abuse this league director took upon returning to his seat in the stands, abuse, I might add dished out by parents of boys on your team.

Because I was scorekeeper-timekeeper, I was in on the action first hand and heard the rest of the arguments and abuse going on 10 feet behind me. That day I became, not a parent fed up with minor hockey, but a minor hockey parent fed up with parents.

Because a goal was disallowed to their team for a clear infraction of the rules, parents became absolutely mad and incensed and indeed the situation didn't come to blows only because the league director kept his poise and his "cool." This is sport?

Indeed as Mr. Dux stated in his letter referring to parents of this calibre, minor hockey doesn't need you, doesn't want you, and would you please just stay away. It is no small wonder that boys can't control themselves on the ice when they see their parents perform in such a manner in the stands.

I am not a Kinsmen back-bencher, because I think improvements could be made to our minor hockey program, - improvements I might add, that could and should come from more positive feedback from the hockey people in general, namely the parents.

That is not a minor war we're watching on the ice, it's minor hockey. Let's show the kids some clapping, cheering, hooting and hollering for any and all individual or team efforts; not booing, name calling, cat-calls, swearing and general abuse of all personnel either on or off the ice.

Having two boys in minor hockey, I would like to thank all people concerned for the opportunity that all three of us have had to participate and share in the game of hockey in St. Albert. We have learned that what we put into minor hockey, we have received back many times over.

I would like to make one last statement. In the context used by former U.S. President John F. Kennedy:

"Ask not what Minor Hockey can do for you, but rather, what you will do for Minor Hockey."

Compulsory insurance has its faults

As director of Student Legal Services, Campus Project, I have noted the substantial number of persons charged under the Motor Vehicle Administration Act's "no insurance" section which demands that you have a minimum of $50,000 public liability and property damage coverage on your car. (This is being raised to $100,000 as of July 1st). This situation particularly troubles me because it is a very expensive proposition for those caught:

- $400.00 minimum fine.
- plus, the cost of towing and storage, if you want your car back.
- plus, the cost of buying the insurance that you have to have proof of, before the police will release your car to you.

This "no insurance" section makes it illegal to park, drive, or own an uninsured vehicle, positioned on a "highway." Basically, "highway" is defined as everywhere but private property.

Although one doesn't have too much sympathy for those that flagrantly disregard the law, one's sense of justice may be outraged when these same unbending laws have to be applied to people who are only technically guilty. Such cases may arise when people who move to Alberta from B.C. or Saskatchewan are stopped and charged, because unbeknownst to them, their policies are voided because they moved out of their respective provinces.

Another situation which is patently unfair is the situation where the person pushes his uninsured car out into the alley while he cleans his garage; along comes a policeman and tickets him. These situations and ones akin to them do not form the bulk of the "no insurance" cases, but they are by no means rare.

In short, I wish to bring to your attention, and that of your readers, that this law exists, so that perhaps they will avoid this situation in the first place by ensuring that they have the proper insurance and secondly, that this law is very arbitrary and can work considerable injustice.

Pat Yearwood

Cross country skiing

Cross country skiing is one of the most popular outdoor winter sports in Canada, and this winter's heavy snow has delighted skiers and encouraged many others to join. But beginners and even some experienced skiers don't know, or don't apply, some basic safety precautions to make sure that fun doesn't become tragedy.

The Canada Safety Council strongly recommends that anyone wishing to take up cross country skiing join a club where expert knowledge of the sport and the countryside is available.

Cross country skiing should be done during daylight hours and always in company. A lone skier is more exposed to hazards. The route should follow recognized trails and skiers should carry a map and a compass and learn to use them. A good safety practice is to advise others at home of the intended route and estimated departure and arrival times.

The ability of everyone in the group should be taken into consideration when choosing the terrain and setting the distance to cover. It is also important to wear proper clothing and use proper equipment. A reliable sporting goods dealer can give good advice.

Skiers must be prepared for bad weather and changing conditions. They should know the shelters along the trail, carry extra food rations and a sportsman's all purpose or space blanket. Accidents can happen any time, as well as damage to equipment. A small first aid kit and a small ski equipment tool kit will be useful.

There's no trouble keeping them down on the farm these days. Last year 59 percent of 2.8 million people who did farm work were in the 14- to 25 year old age bracket.

When Vikings first landed on Iceland, they saw clouds of geothermal steam rising from the area where Iceland's capital now stands. They named the site Reykjavik, meaning "Smoking Bay," National Geographic says.

dist, referring to the pack he studied in Jasper National Park."

Dr. Carbyn says the wolf is not endangered in North America as a whole, and has actually increased its range in northern and western Canada.

But he points out that this increase appears to be part of a population cycle that may be partially caused by man. When wolf populations increase, the public tends to react against the animal with the result that "predator control" -- wolf killing -- programs are implemented.

In turn, the wolf population declines.

Dr. Carbyn says there's no doubt that the wolf often competes with man for the same resource -- large ungulates, or livestock. This usually happens when both man and wolf hunt the same species on a sustained basis.

"But it's the degree of competition that's at the heart of the controversy. It becomes a matter of values -- sports hunting versus wolves."

The scientist opts for wolves.

"In wilderness systems, man should be getting the interest, not the capital," he says. "I believe steps should be taken to ensure that species such as the wolf have a place in our country."

An effective method of protecting wolves would be to declare them official game or furbearing animals in wilderness areas, he says.

"Making the wolf a game or furbearing animal would provide a legal basis for managing them and under some circumstances, drawing attention to them as a resource and not a 'varmint'," he says. "The wolf has never been given priority ... Animals like deer and caribou get a lot of attention because they're economically important."

He adds, however, that it would be impractical to make the wolf a protected game or furbearer species in agricultural areas where it preys on livestock.

As a game animal, the wolf would primarily be hunted as a trophy by sportsmen -- and would be subject to management practices such as closed hunting seasons and bag limits. As a furbearer, its valuable pelts would be harvested for market. The most likely time for the hunting season would be from September to January, when the animals run in packs and are without young, says Dr. Carbyn.

One problem with the concept of making the wolf a game species is that only a select few sports hunters regard the animal as a desirable game animal. Other problems relating to these circumstances concern livestock which has to be protected from wolf predation.

Robot does automatic welding

A robot welder capable of automatically welding hull components for a wide variety of ships is efficient, easy to handle and provides considerable economy of manpower, according to a report in the Canada/Japan Trade Council newsletter of November, 1977.

The welding robot was designed by Japan's Nippon Kokan K.K. and control resides in a mini-computer which permits decision-making as well as application of pre-fed instructions. It is reported that enquiries are pouring in from around the world.

Employing a gantry-type support, the welder is equipped with three sensors and each sensor unit has a differential transformer which has a feed-back function to correct misalignment of weld joints and variations in fit-up. The use of two torches affords high-speed welding.

The robot is fed simple instructions and the sensors then follow the weld-lines in accordance with the sequence previously dictated.

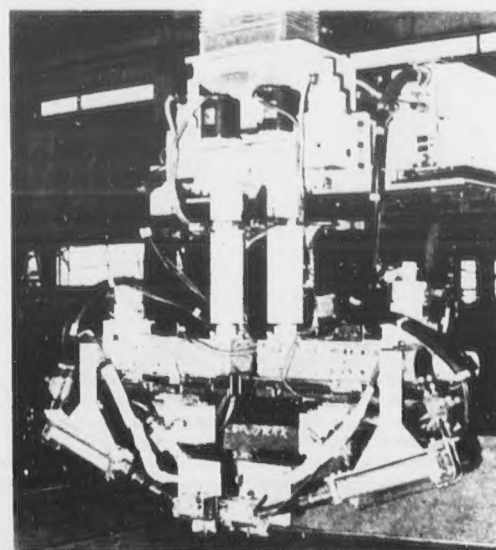

Spectators will be admitted for a fee of 25¢. Last year the competition was won by Vital Grandin school. During breaks in the competition there will be displays of routines put on by the club's competitive team.

BADMINTON

This robot welder, developed by a Japanese firm, is capable of automatically welding hull components for a wide variety of ships and is attracting widespread interest.

Bill Robinson to conduct leathercraft workshop

Bill Robinson, who will instruct the city's workshop on soft leatherwork, is seen here wearing one of the vests that pupils in the weekend course will be making.

To many people, the thought of leatherwork conjures up memories of summer camp crafts -- an endless procession of keycases, belts, coasters and change purses, all neatly bound with plastic lacing. When I asked leather craftsman Bill Robinson if that was his line of work, he barely repressed a shudder, and patiently points out that leather can be used to serve a number of other purposes.

Bill will be showing how to use leather in the making of clothing when he conducts a workshop for the City of St. Albert in March. With his help students will be able to create a small leather item which is uniquely their own. The emphasis on "small" is not through any meanness of spirit on Mr. Robinson's part. The workshop will only allow for 16 hours of work time, and it takes 100 hours to make a jacket. Because of this time limitation, Bill suggests that students planning on attending the workshop undertake a more modest project, such as a vest. The preliminary meeting for the weekend project will be held March 9 at the Lacombe Clubhouse at 8 p.m., and at that time students will be told of the material and supply requirements. The workshop itself will take place March 18 and 19 at the Mission Clubhouse, from 9 - 4 both days.

Bill's interest in leatherwork came about accidentally, when he suggested to a friend in need of diversion that leather crafts might keep her occupied. He then experimented with several projects, and became interested himself. This casual interest grew, and Bill now takes orders for suit jackets and other items. Members of the entertainment field comprise much of his clientele, as his luxurious leather garments have appeal for those in the spotlight. Bill works mainly with undyed leathers, as he feels that the natural colours best enhance the leather medium. He uses no thread in the stitching, preferring to use leather for this. One jacket can use as much as 25-30 feet of leather for stitching. When designing his creations, Bill tries to suit the garment to the character of the wearer, and never repeats a pattern. He does not work with chamois and does no tooling.

As a former Paul Kane High School student, Bill is no stranger to St. Albert. He is presently attending Grant MacEwan College, where he is enrolled in a program for youth workers.

Houselighters announce three scholarships

The Houselighters of the Citadel Theatre have announced that applications will be accepted until April 14, 1978 for the Dame Peggy Ashcroft and John Neville Scholarships, and the Kayla Shoctor Award of Merit. The scholarships are available to residents of Alberta who wish to pursue further studies in recognized areas of theatre. This year, the scholarships will total $2,500.

The Scholarship Trust Fund was established by the Houselighters in 1976. They are named in honor of Dame Peggy Ashcroft, Kayla Shoctor and John Neville. The Award of Merit is named after Kayla Shoctor in recognition of the great contribution made by Mrs. Shoctor to the Houselighters over the past 10 years. The Dame Peggy Ashcroft Scholarship was made possible because of her enthusiastic encouragement during her recent visits to Edmonton, and this encouragement led directly to the dreamed-of fund becoming a reality. The most recent scholarship, named after John Neville will be awarded to a person who wishes to follow a career in classical theatre. The Houselighters feel that it is essential to provide scholarships such as these to encourage growth of future theatre personnel, and that a theatre has an obligation to provide this to the community.

The scholarships will be awarded once per fiscal year (June 1 - May 31) but may not necessarily be awarded in any given year if suitable candidates are not found. Mr. John Neville, theatre director for the Citadel Theatre and Mr. Keith Digby, director of the Citadel-on-Wheels/Wings will be closely involved in the selection of the recipients. Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Sheila Gynane, co-ordinator of the Scholarship Trust Fund Committee - 434-4332.

Applicants are asked to submit resumes, including letters of recommendation from teachers, full theatre experience and photographs, before April 14, 1978, to Mrs. Sheila Gynane, 11420 - 49 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, T5H 0G8. Winners of these scholarships will be notified in May, 1978.

FRED

FRED RUSSELL OF NORTHWESTERN UTILITIES HAS SOME USEFUL HINTS ON HOW YOU CAN SAVE MONEY AND INCREASE YOUR HOME HEATING EFFICIENCY

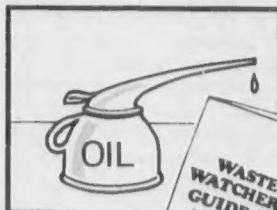

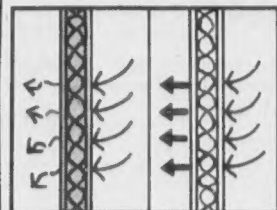

Fred Russell, Superintendent of Customer Service.

Forced-air heating system filters are designed to trap dust and lint from the air. When they become clogged, the flow of air is restricted, reducing heating efficiency, thus costing you money.

If your furnace filter is of the disposable glass fibre type, it should be cleaned monthly and replaced at least twice a year. Permanent type filters should be cleaned and the proper commercial spray should be applied. If in doubt, check with your furnace contractor, particularly before the onslaught of winter.

Besides checking your filter, be sure your furnace motor and fan bearings are lubricated according to manufacturer's instructions. Registers should be cleaned of dust and other objects. Furniture and rugs should not obstruct hot and cold air registers.

For more information pick up the free pamphlet, "Waste Watcher's Guide to Energy" at your nearby gas company office. When it comes to the wise use of energy, if you have the will, we have the ways.

EDUCATION COMMENT

Study of post-secondary school finance released

Dr. A. E. Hohol, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, recently announced the release of a major study of the department's financial planning and educational funding for post-secondary institutions in the province.

Three teachers vie for ATA vice-president positions

Three teachers are contesting two vice-president positions on the Provincial Executive Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association. The other eight positions available this year were filled by acclamation, including that of president. Kenneth (Mac) Kryzanowski of Medicine Hat remains by acclamation for another one-year term as ATA president.

Running for one-year terms as vice-president are Charles Rose of Calgary, Doug Trace of Edmonton (both incumbents), and Elizabeth Thompson of Sherwood Park. Nearly 26,000 Alberta teachers are eligible to vote in the election, whose results will be known March 25.

Also elected by acclamation are seven district representatives, who will serve two-year terms: Calgary City - Rodney Burgess, and Brendan Dunphy, both of Calgary; Calgary District - Carl Christensen, Calgary; Central Western - Frank Pickering, Stettler; Edmonton City - Warren Bailey, Edmonton; Northwestern - Michael Shopik, Grande Prairie; Southeastern - Leslie Cluff, Medicine Hat.

In addition, a by-election for district representative will be held by Edmonton district to fill the remaining one-year term left by Mrs. Thompson. The results will be known March 25, as well. The other six district representatives on the council are completing two-year terms.

For further information, contact Judy Samoil at 453-2411 (Barnett House, Edmonton).

tion and Manpower, recently announced the release of a major study of the department's financial planning and educational funding for post-secondary institutions in the province.

Of particular significance to the academic community, the report, entitled A Financial Plan for Alberta Colleges and Universities, proposes a formula for allocating resources equitably among autonomous institutions. The essential purpose of the project was to recommend a technique for distribution of government funds to the board-governed institutions.

In recent years, funding has been done incrementally. Each institution received a fixed percentage in addition to the amount granted the previous year. While the allocation process took into consideration the number of students and the particular requests of the institution, the allocated amount was related more to inflation and government spending guidelines.

Project intentions were to recommend on the general problem of the distribution of a fixed operating grant. Since Advanced Education and Manpower retains financial control, as well as the responsibility to plan, coordinate, monitor and regulate the system of advanced education, the project was not concerned with determining nor suggesting financial figures with regard to funding.

UNIQUE CHARACTERISTICS CONSIDERED

The proposed allocation formula facilitates equitable distribution of available monies to the institutions in a way that takes into account not only the number of students and their level of study, but also the unique characteristics and aspirations of the different universities and colleges in Alberta.

An analytical approach to funding is recommended. Individual institutional features such as economies of scale, regional factors, variations in programs, as well as differences in instructional practices, student mix and personnel would be considered. According to the report, such analyses would reinforce the linkages between budgeting, institutional and system planning, and resource allocations.

The report recommends a three-year funding cycle. This extended cycle is intended to facilitate institutional planning and budgeting with reference to academic, financial and physical aspects.

The proposed funding system reinforces institutional autonomy since the boards of governors have the responsibility for internal allocation and expenditures of grants. The report suggests that grants be indexed so that institutional funds are not eroded by inflation.

Bernard S. Sheehan from the office of Institutional Research at the University of Calgary prepared the plan, which was commissioned in 1975 by the government of Alberta.

The limited number of copies of the 625-page report will be distributed by Advanced Education and Manpower, to the Alberta Legislature and Treasury, as well as to universities and public colleges in the province. Summaries of the report, also prepared by Dr. Sheehan, will be sent for information purposes to various advanced education councils and committees, and members of the Alberta Cabinet and Caucus.

Community discussions of education planned

A series of at least 20 seminars in March, April and May to discuss elementary and secondary school programs and requirements for high school graduation were announced by Education Minister Julian Koziak recently. The seminars have been planned in consultation with representatives of business, labor, parents, superintendents, teachers and trustees. Six issues arising from the widely distributed paper "Alberta Education and Diploma Requirements" will form the focus for community discussion:

Expansions of a statement of goals of education to provide a basis for determining school program and course content.

Reviews and revisions to programs and courses to assure that goals are met.

Evaluation of school programs to assure that all prescribed knowledge and skills are provided.

Requiring standard achievement, and repeating in case of failure, and other practises for assuring final student achievement levels.

Requirements of documented evidence of individual student performance in addition to a list of completed courses before a high school diploma is issued.

Consideration of a province-wide monitoring system to confirm that students attain desirable achievement levels.

The results of the seminars will be reported to the Curriculum Policies Board to assist in determining the recommendations to the Minister of Education on program and course patterns. A local planning committee is being established for each centre to organize the seminar.

Persons interested in participating in any seminar should contact the appropriate Regional Office of Education for each zone.

Announcements of dates for Calgary and Edmonton will be made later.

"I've just been elected a director."

Who would have thought I'd ever be on the Board of Directors of a Canadian financial institution? Well, I am.

I joined my Credit Union seven years ago, and I've been pretty active in it ever since. I've always attended the meetings — after all, it's my money, too, and I like to know what's being done with it.

I also like the idea of having my say. The control in a Credit Union comes from the members. And with the "one member, one vote" system, I know I have as much influence as anyone else.

Sure, the Credit Union system is big — it has to be to compete in today's market. But it's big on service, too, and big on people. And because it's owned and controlled by the same group of people, we all benefit. We know it's acting in our best interests, and for the good of our community.

In any other financial institution, I'd be just a number. In my Credit Union, I'm on the Board of Directors. I'm part of it, and it's part of my life.

The Credit Union
"It suits my lifestyle."

College grads and executives meet

In today's critical job market, the key to successful career preparation is advanced education and practical training. NAIT seems to have found the key and one example of their approach is happening this Wednesday (today) at the MacDonald Hotel.

300 graduating business students are meeting with 20 of Edmonton's top businessmen and women in an all-day closed conference. Its the fifth annual such get together and its previous success has led to the current size and importance.

The students get the opportunity to interact with senior executives and gain first hand insight into the major business issues of the day and future career opportunities. The experience can open many doors and from the businessmen's standpoint allows management the opportunity to assess student's interests, capabilities and career desires.

The students will be in workshop discussion sessions with local executives as the President of the Chamber of Commerce and Vice President of Marketing at Imperial Oil, Mr. Gerry Fullerton; the Branch Manager of I.B.M.,

Mr. Bob Hunter and many others including guests from various aspects of government.

The highlight of the day is Herb Capozzi, keynote speaker for the noon luncheon. The ex-professional football player and previous member of the Legislative Assembly for B.C. is now a full time Vancouver businessman, owner and director of Keg and Cleaver Restaurants and the Vancouver Whitecaps of the North American Professional Soccer League. Mr. Capozzi's interests are far reaching and also include ownership of M.A.R.C., a complete mens athletic club and restaurant complex in Vancouver and a member of other companies.

Throughout the morning the students will be in small group seminars with the industry leaders with much opportunity for questioning. The afternoon will feature panel presentations by the businessmen on various topics relating to the student's interests in Marketing, Administrative Management, Accounting and Finance and Computers.

German schools in addition to schools in London, Melbourne and Vienna.

Since 1976 he has been ballet master and choreographer of the Dutch National Ballet of Amsterdam, directed by Rudi Van Dantzig. During his career, Mr. Manniegel has worked with Cranko, Balanchine, Nureyev, Van Manen and Bejart.

The Master Class Course will consist of classical ballet, pointes, repertoire and pas de deux. It is open to a limited number of advanced students and professional dancers who will be selected by the audition tour (March 19 - 23) and by course instructors in Banff. Students from this program will be selected to perform in the 1978 Festival of the Arts ballet productions. One of these productions will be Brian McDonald's Tam ti Delam and it is expected that Mr. Manniegel will mount and direct a classical work.

new Lee Choreographic competition will also be mounted in a premiere production.

JAZZ BALLET

Peter George will return to the Dance/Ballet Division after one year's absence to instruct students in jazz and to mount a jazz pas de deux for the 1978 Festival of the Arts. A message about those who think they can cheat UI:

"We're not really dishonest."

Unfortunately that's not true.

It seems that some people like you think there's nothing wrong with ripping off Canada's Unemployment Insurance program.

"All we did was fail to report a little extra income while getting UI."

With that sort of behaviour you could be charged with a criminal offence. Isn't it just like shoplifting or theft?

Cheating on Unemployment Insurance is stealing from your neighbours, friends, fellow employees, employers, and the Government of Canada, all at the same time. And not being available for work when you're getting UI is abuse, pure and simple.

"How did you ever find out?"

Unemployment Insurance has almost 500 full-time trained claims investigators on staff. And, like any modern organization, we're using new data-handling techniques to their best advantage. We match up Records of Employment with claim records.

The claims investigator may be alerted by an agent at the Unemployment Insurance office, or by our central fact-finding computer system.

If there's evidence of abuse or fraud, the investigators will make a recommendation for action to either the UI agent or legal counsel.

"Well, what are you going to do with us?"

Depending on the seriousness of your offence, you may have to pay an administrative penalty. Or, you could be charged in a court of law under the Unemployment Insurance Act or the Criminal Code of Canada. Conviction means a criminal record. And benefits wrongly obtained must be paid back in full.

In any case, it's not very pleasant. We're not in business to prosecute people. Avoid this by dealing with us as fairly as we try to deal with you.

The people of Canada should not be cheated by an irresponsible few.

For your sake, please play it straight with us.

The Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Department of Manpower and Immigration have become the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission. For a time, you'll still see our local offices identified as Unemployment Insurance offices or Canada Manpower Centres. When they're together in one location, they'll be called Canada Employment Centres.

Theatres angered by Secretary of State

Professional theatres across Canada met recently and criticized the Secretary of State for not recognizing their needs and inadequately representing them to the government of Canada. At a press conference held in Ottawa the 62-member theatres of the Professional Association of Canadian Theatres -- PACT -- made known its dissatisfaction with the Secretary of State's policies to date.

Live professional theatre in Canada has grown tremendously in the past 20 years. The federal government, through the Secretary of State's office and the Canada Council, has been responsible for funding a major part of this expansion.

PACT chairman, Dr. Gregory Poggi stated: "We need funds to keep our theatres alive, but in the last three years funds have been reduced or frozen with the following disastrous results. In spite of ticket price increases 67% of our members have had to cut back the number of their productions, 55% have had to lay off staff, 74% have had to reduce the number of actors employed, and 55% have incurred a greatly increased deficit."

In February, 1977, members of PACT met with the Secretary of State John Roberts, and apprised him of the critical needs of the theatre profession. Yet in September, 1977, Mr. Roberts announced that $13.6 million would be given to new and on-going cultural programs. PACT is angered that none of this money will go toward the crucial operating needs of the overwhelming majority of Canadian professional theatres.

PACT is also distressed that this money was not channeled through the existing autonomous agency for such activity in this country -- The Canada Council. Public support for ongoing operating grants was expressed by the recent Awareness Campaign, which has brought in close to 100,000 signatures in support of PACT's aim.

PACT now demands that the Secretary of State represent the case of his constituents to the government of Canada and deliver to the theatre profession an immediate response which "fairly and squarely presents a positive solution."

Theatre 3 Art Fair date set

The Fifth Annual Art Fair organized by Theatre 3 will be held March 1 - 4 at Southgate Shopping Mall, committee chairperson June Liknaitzky announced recently.

"As in past years, the very best works of more than 45 local artists will be available for sale during the four days of the Fair," says Mrs. Liknaitzky. Multi-talented Anne Pope, naturalist painter Edgar T. Jones, portrait painter Kay Mais, and three artisans from Pottery West will be demonstrating their skills. Other crafts on display will be weaving, candle making, marquetry, metal sculpture, wooden toys, photography and paintings.

"We are very pleased with the continued co-operation of Mr. Depree and Southgate, as this very busy mall has proven to be an ideal location for the Art Fair," says Mrs. Liknaitzky. The Fair continues during the hours in which the mall is open: Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Proceeds from the Art Fair go toward operational costs of the Theatre, and represent an important source of funds in that the money raised through sale of the crafts is matched in grant money from the provincial government.

The Theatre 3 Annual Art Fair enjoys repeated success because of the high calibre of arts and crafts displayed. Patrons of the Fair can count on seeing again the works of their favorite artists from past years, as well as discovering the exciting work of excellent craftpersons displaying for the first time.

Hide sculpture at Art Gallery

The one-man show of British sculptor, Peter Hide, will be on view at The Edmonton Art Gallery from March 4 - 29. Mr. Hide, a young British sculptor, is now teaching at the University of Alberta. Born in Surrey in 1944, he studied at Croydon College of Art and St. Martin's School of Art, with Tim Scott. The exhibition at the Gallery is selected from work executed since his arrival in Canada this past fall.

Mr. Hide works in the modernist constructed idiom of Caro and Scott, but is exploring territory which is completely his own. His recent works are concerned with concavities played against volumes, which seemingly solid masses which reveal themselves as hollow as you move around the sculpture, and with vertical development of these masses.

The official opening will be on Saturday, March 4, at 3:30 p.m. The artist will be present at the opening.

ceramic piece, Bootcase, four ceramic pieces from a new series entitled, Kitsilano Duck and a large four panel painting (of her backyard) called, The Border.

A catalogue will accompany the exhibition, available at the Gallery Shop.

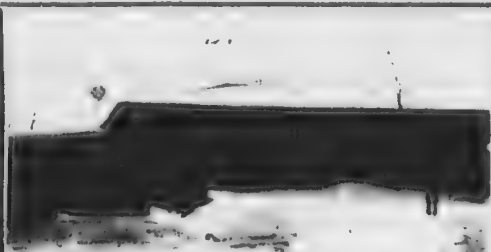

The official opening will be Friday, March 3 at 2:30 p.m.

Falk sculpture displayed

A one-man show of Gathie Falk, a sculptor from Vancouver, will be on view at The Edmonton Art Gallery from February 28 - March 21, 1978.

Gathie Falk is best known across Canada as a sculptor of ceramic objects. Although these objects are by nature limited in size, her artistic concerns go beyond table-top scale to large environments populated by small individual pieces. Nor is her work limited to ceramic. Ms. Falk uses a number of elements (for example in Herd, she uses 24 plywood cutouts of a carousel-type horse) to allude to, or recall, a place, a time, or an idea. Ms. Falk's repetition of images -- apples, cabbages, horses or shoes -- her use of various media, her whimsical ideas and her involvement in performances, could label a conceptual artist were it not for the real, tactile presence of the objects she chooses to construct.

The exhibition at The Edmonton Art Gallery contains examples of different aspects of her work, including an earlier, familiar

CFDC helped in release of 21 feature movies

Financial support from the Canadian Film Development Corporation made possible the release in Canada of 21 feature-length motion pictures during 1976-77. Thirteen were in English, eight in French.

The CFDC was established by the Canadian Government 10 years ago to help create a feature film industry in Canada. Its current budget is $3,343,000.

In its annual report released recently, the Corporation noted several films and directors as examples of successful Canadian features. They were: "Death Weekend" - William Fruett. "Je suis loin de toi Mignonne" - Claude Fournier. "Parlez-nous d'amour" - Jean-Claude Lord, and "Breaking Point" - Robert Clark.

During the fiscal year ending March 31, the film "Shivers" - David Cronenberg, recovered its production costs and joins "Black Christmas" - Robert Clark. "The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz" - Ted Kotcheff, and "Heart Farm" - John Trent, in the ranks of English language films now in a profit position. This development places them on a par with French language films which had good returns in earlier years.

Internationally, Canadian pictures continued to make steady advances.

Columbia Pictures had world rights to "Shadow of the Hawk," 20th Century Fox played "Breaking Point" around the world, and such pictures as "Shivers," "Death Weekend," "Sudden Fury," and "Black Christmas" were being shown internationally.

In addition to participation in the Cannes Film Festival and the MIFED Film Fair in Milan, Canadian cinema weeks were arranged for Japan, England, and Australia.

At the first annual Festival of Festivals held in Toronto during October, 1976, CFDC made available to film buyers 65 video-cassettes of Canadian films.

CFDC representatives have also worked with the Department of External Affairs to arrange meetings in New York, Washington, San Francisco, and Los Angeles to discuss the problem of penetrating the United States market.

"The Corporation feels that the slightly improved position in revenue returns indicates a healthy sign for the industry," the annual report notes.

Klosty photos study company

MC = E is an exhibition of photographs by James Klosty about the Merce Cunningham Company and the artists, dancers, composers, musicians and other creative people who have been involved with the Company. It is a celebration of Merce Cunningham and the avant-garde he inhabits. It is, as well, an artist's vision of a unique and fascinating collaborative effort, which, with Cunningham at its core, has profoundly influenced contemporary aesthetics. The paperback edition of Klosty's book, Merce Cunningham (Saturday Review Press/E.P. Dutton, 1975), with essays by sixteen of Merce Cunningham's associates, among them John Cage, Carolyn Brown, Yvonne Rainer, Gordon Mumma, Jasper Johns, serves as a catalogue to the exhibition.

This exhibit will be on view at the University Art Gallery & Museum from February 15 to March 15, 1978.

Gallery Hours: Monday Friday 11 a.m. - 4 p.m. Thursday: 11 a.m. - 9 p.m. Sunday: 2 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Foreign films made in Canada

Canada collaborated during 1976-77 with Britain and France in the production of five motion pictures, the Canadian Film Development Corporation reports.

Four other films were made by Canadians with foreign partners without financial assistance from the Crown corporation.

Two were made with Britain, one with France, and one with Italy.

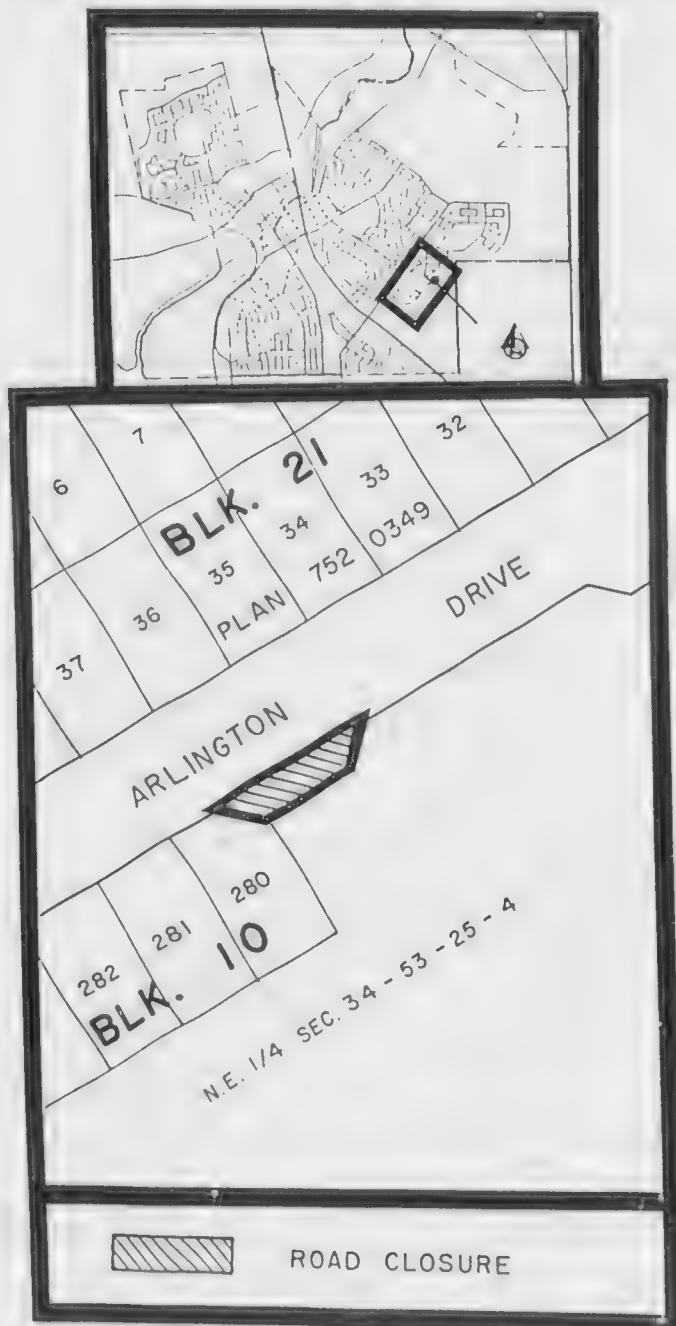

CFDC took part in the production of 16 feature films during the period under review, down two from the previous year. They provided 130 assignments for Canadian writers, directors, producers, and production assistants. Additionally, there were 768 roles for performers and employment for 331 technicians in the Canadian film industry.

Canadian film laboratories, as a direct result, earned $876,500 and equipment rental accounted for $597,500.

Level for air contaminants adopted

Maximum tolerable levels have been set for five major air contaminants under the Clean Air Act, Environment Minister Len Marchand announced recently.

The five contaminants -- particulate matter, sulphur dioxide, carbon monoxide, oxidants (ozone), and nitrogen dioxide -- are responsible for 90 percent of total air pollution in Canada.

Under the Clean Air Act of 1971, three levels for air quality were set -- desirable, acceptable, and tolerable.

Desirable is the level where the environment generally is not affected; acceptable is the level where minimal effects of contaminants are considered to be reasonable.

When air quality conditions have deteriorated to the maximum tolerable level, prompt abatement action is necessary by local authorities. Surveillance of air quality in Canada over the past several years, however, has shown these levels are seldom reached.

Maximum tolerable levels for the five major air contaminants were developed by a federal-provincial committee.

St. Albert nurses told how to recognize battered children

Speakers at the January 17 meeting of the St. Albert Nurse's Interest Group were Dr. Sheila Durkin, Director of the Sturgeon Health Unit and Wayne Wright, District Administrator St. Albert Social Services Department. Their topic: "The Battered Child."

Dr. Durkin started her talk by saying that the maltreatment of children is a problem of people living together, interacting in complex ways. It involves not only the tens of thousands of families in which children suffer physical, emotional and psychological maltreatment each year, but also the countless people who are attempting to understand and manage the problem: members of federal and provincial governments, those in health care, legal, and social work systems; and anyone concerned about the welfare of children and families.

Seen from each individual's perspective, the picture of child abuse and neglect seems relatively simple to understand. The physician may perceive it as medical problems to be diagnosed and treated; the policeman as criminal conduct to be punished. The psychiatrist may view the problem as one of parents in need of treatment, while the social worker may see it as children in need of protection. The sociologist sees social disfunction: the moralist sees monstrous and unnatural acts. The parent's view tends to be clouded by their desperation, feelings of failure at parenthood, and fears of punishment and criticism rather than help. Who knows what the child's viewpoint is! That is seldom heard.

Seen as a whole - which is how we must try to understand it - the problem is a complex and difficult one full of half understood relationships, suspicions, tragedies and the unknown.

Dr. Durkin then showed a detailed film on child abuse. The following information was taken from the film:

NEGLECT IS DIFFERENT

It is important that all people know the difference between child neglect and child abuse. The neglected child may be defined as a child whose basic care has been ignored. Be aware of the following: a young child left unattended when awake; young children repeatedly locked out of their homes; young children left with inadequate supervision; children with poor hygiene and soiled clothing; children with medical and dental neglect; children with frequent absences from school; children who beg or steal lunches at school; children who are dressed inappropriately for the weather.

Often financial help and referrals help families recover from this situation and rarely is there permanent damage or death as a result of neglect.

The Battered Child is continually exposed to physical abuse at the hands of an older stronger person, and may be punched, kicked, bitten or burned. Any of these can lead to serious injury, mental problems or death.

It is important however, to realize that the following indications are not necessarily proof of maltreatment, since any one of several could reflect situations other than abuse.

In the case of infants, the nurse should be on the alert for babies admitted with symptoms of failure to thrive and infants exhibiting delayed development. These may indicate the baby is not being cuddled or loved. The mother may not be feeding, changing and caring for the infant on a regular basis. Her explanation for bruises or scars may not be logical and should alert the health team to a deeper problem.

The abused older child may be withdrawn and have great difficulty relating to other children. He may have old scars and injuries which have never received proper treatment. He may cling to his teacher because he is hungry for affection. He may have prolonged absences from school with his academic progress coming to a halt. There may be sudden behavioural changes - his way of calling for help.

PARENT SUFFERED

According to one survey, parents who abuse their children are themselves products of multi-problem families, inadequately cared for during their own childhood. Their background leaves them ill-prepared to raise children and unable to cope with the many obstacles encountered in parenting. Actually the characteristics of those who would abuse their children are non distinct. The average age of the mother is 26 and the father 30. The I.Q. can range from 70 - 130. An abuser can be very religious or agnostic. They come from rich or poor families and any walk of life.

Some Predisposing factors could lead to child abuse. These include a premature infant; an infant with colic; a defective child; one parent family in which the social isolation is overwhelming; post-partum psychosis; severe disappointment over sex of the child.

After the movie, Wayne Wright discussed some of our Alberta statistics on Child Abuse. In 1975, 421 cases of child abuse were reported; in 1976, 237 cases and in 1977, 285 cases.

Of the 285 cases reported in 1977, 141 females abused children and 144 males abused children. 58% of the children abused were under four years old.

Mr. Wright then discussed what to do in St. Albert if a case of child abuse is suspected. Call the St. Albert Child Protection Dept. 458-9400. A case worker will be sent out immediately to investigate the call. If the abuse is mild, a protection file is started and the parent warned re any further problem. Please Turn to Page 18

A house that will conserve energy

By Alberta Agriculture

Pat Doerksen and

M.D. Building, Morinville
Phone 939-4351

If you intend to build a house on your farm or acreage, choose a site that will make maximum use of the sun's energy. This is the best way to keep your future fuel bills down.

PROPER SELECTION OF SITE

Try to pick an area on a southern slope or one that has plenty of trees. A southern slope will provide good insulation for the house along its northern wall and allow maximum exposure to the sun on the south. Deciduous trees (those that lose their leaves) will provide shade for the house during the summer, and allow the sun to help heat it in the winter, especially if the house has large windows facing south. Trees will also shelter the house from wind.

TREES IMPORTANT

If you intend to plant your trees, it is good idea to put evergreens along the north and west sides of the house, to protect it from the prevailing winds, and to plant deciduous trees along the southern exposure. Most people prefer to have no large trees on the east side of the house so that they can take advantage of the early morning sun.

EARTH AS INSULATION

Mounds of earth can also be used to protect a house from wind. They should be 50 to a hundred feet back from the north and west walls, depending upon the location of the house in relation to the general area. When properly integrated into the landscape plan, these mounds can make attractive planting areas.

If your house plan calls for a basement with large windows on one side, you can keep your future heating bills to a minimum by banking the other three sides with earth. The earth should come to just below the main floor level.

A COMPACT FLOOR PLAN

Still another way of conserving future energy is to reduce the surface area of your house by incorporating a finished basement. Because of the insulation provided by the earth, you can save up to 25 percent of what it would have cost you to heat the same square footage on the main level. If you do not want to finish your basement, you should consider a rectangular house rather than an L-shaped one. Since a rectangular house has less wall area, and, therefore, less heat loss, it costs about six per cent less to heat than an L-shaped building of the same size.

You can further reduce potential heating requirements by having only one entrance. A house with one multi-purpose entrance, equipped with a cloakroom and washing facilities, requires considerably less energy to heat than a two-entrance house because it has less square feet.

INCREASE INSULATION

The way you insulate your house will also influence your future heating bills. Alberta Agriculture's home design specialists say that 2" x 6" studs at 24-inch spacings, as opposed to the conventional 2" x 4" studs at 16-inch spacings, will increase your wall insulation by about half as much again. If you use 2" x 4" studs, you should use foam type insulating sheathing under the siding or construct an inner wall with 2" x 3" studs at 16-inch horizontal spacings and use batt insulation between it and the outside wall. The specialists also recommend insulating the roof with two six-inch layers of batt insulation (instead of the conventional 6" loose fill) and insulating the joist spaces around the perimeter of your basement, even if it is not finished. You should extend the insulation to three feet below the ground.

DOORS AND WINDOWS

Finally, use insulated doors and well constructed, tightly fitting windows. If the site you have chosen for your house does not make maximum use of the sun's heat, it is a good idea to keep your window area to a minimum and to use quadruple glazing (four panes of glass) on the north side of the house and triple glazing on the west and east sides. They are more expensive than double glazed windows, but they reduce the heat loss by about a third.

You can get more information on building a house that requires a minimum of heating by contacting Alberta Agriculture, MD building, Morinville, phone 939-4351.

Women must look to their own heart health

For many years, the Alberta Heart Foundation and other health educators have thought about women primarily in relation to the heart health of their husbands and their families. The male epidemic of heart attack certainly justified using any and all means to gain control of the rampaging death being dealt.

In the process, the Heart Foundation points out, we almost have lost sight of the fact that more women in Canada die of cardiovascular diseases than from any other cause. Regardless of the male vulnerability in this respect, diseases of the heart and blood vessels are the number one health problem of women, as well.

Women are entering into the mainstream of a lifestyle which has contributed to male vulnerability to heart attack. While women appear to have some amount of protection from heart attack during pre-menopausal years, the advantage rapidly is being dissipated through a growing acquisition of traditional male risk factors.

As equal participants in a way of life which produces unusual and unnecessary risks of heart disease and stroke, the Alberta Heart Foundation urges women to look to their own health.

Educational programs on behalf of heart health are made possible by the Foundation's annual February campaign. The theme of this year's campaign is: "We're Fighting For Your Life!"

for the event will be Dolores Dyck, an Edmonton homemaker and mother of three. The musical segment of the program will be given by Darlene Larson who has performed in operettas and symphonies.

The meeting will be held from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. and admission fee will be $4 per person. Reservations are essential and cancellations are necessary. A nursery service is provided at a cost of $1.50 per mother.

For reservations, call Diana Unrau at 458-9672 or Lorraine Carter at 459-7313.

Christian Women's Club to meet

"How Sweet It Is" will be the theme of the featured address at the Christian Women's Club Brunch to be held Thursday, March 9 at the St. Albert Inn. The topic will cover the art of chocolate making and will be presented by Robinson's Pet and Hobby Supply Ltd.

lem. Referrals are made for counselling or other help agencies. If the abuse is a serious case, the worker apprehends the child and takes it to hospital. Once a child is apprehended there is a court case.

Dr. Durkin then told the nurses that a well documented record must be kept of all treatments and tests done on the child. The history as given by the parents must be charted accurately. The nurse should follow the hospital's rules re taking photographs of the child, stating on the chart who took the pictures and who was present when the photos were taken. X-Rays should be taken to see if there have been any old untreated fractures as well as for the recent injury. Blood work should be done and a coagulation survey carried out to eliminate the possibility of a blood disease causing the bruising. A urinalysis should be done to check for blood in the urine. The nurse should chart the interaction between the child and parent. The parent should be asked about the time of the accident because a delay in bringing the child to Emergency could be an indication that they are trying to hide their problem. An infant who is failing to thrive should be hospitalized and tests done to rule out cardiac or renal problems. After medical problems have been checked out, the baby should be put on a seven to 10 day nursing programme with careful observation and measurement. If the baby begins to thrive on this loving there is probably a mothering defect and specialized help is needed.

A question and answer period followed and from this the nurses came away with the realization that there is much to do re education the community about Child Abuse and the help that is available for parents and children.

The following poem was in the film Dr. Durkin showed:

A child is like a light you see
Just like hope in you and me.
A light is like a hope.
What will you give to keep those lights aglow?

Art in the year 2001

What will be the art of the future?

The Edmonton Art Gallery has invited senior high students to create in any medium what they think art will be like in the year 2001, and enter their work in a juried exhibition. The most exciting entries will be displayed in the Junior Gallery during the month of March. This project is a co-operative venture between the Gallery and both the Separate and Public School Boards.

The public is invited to the official opening of this exhibition on Sunday, March 5 at 2:30 p.m.

A regular session of parent-teachers interviews is taking place on Tuesday evening, 7 - 10, Wednesday afternoon 2 - 5 and Thursday afternoon 2 - 5 on March 7, 8, 9 respectively. A number of examples of student projects

Tuesday, March 7. Come and be tested!

We will also be sponsoring our teacher-vice principal and/or principal-for-a-day activities at various times during that week. Students will be taking over some of the classes as well as the offices of Mr. Buccini and Mr. Findlater. Arrangements for these activities are being made on an individual basis with those who are willing to participate.

Participants will be shown a variety of work by 20th century sculptors and will construct sculptures with the materials provided. Participants for the workshop must register in teams of two or three to facilitate a group approach to large constructions. Registration is limited and on a first come, first served basis. The fee is $5 per student, materials are provided. Registration forms can be obtained from The Edmonton Art Gallery.

Mr. Reynolds will be assisted by another Edmonton Sculptor, Catherine Burgess, in the Sculpture Workshop for teens.

Scenes from Simpson

Spring fever is starting to show among students here at Simpson. The grade five and sixes have already started the long preparation for the annual Science Fair. The Science Fair is a competition at each school and then the winners go to the District Competition which will be held at Simpson this year. The School Science Fair will be on March 2 with an open house for the parents being held from 6:30 - 8 p.m. In the Simpson Science Fair there will be 30 - 40 entries and displays will be in the assembly area and classrooms.

The district competition will be held on the 16th of March.

All the students are busy trying to collect books for the Book Fair contest. The winning class will have the choice of a food or entertainment voucher supplied by our local merchants. If students did not get around to collect your books and you wish to donate some please call either Sir George Simpson at 459-4456 or Robert Rundle at 459-4475. The money will go toward audio-visual and library equipment for both schools. So please donate your books.

Career Day at Paul Kane

Students at Paul Kane High School will be exploring these occupations among others on their Career Day to be held Tuesday, March 7.

Over 50 different sessions representing traditional and some not-so-traditional areas of work have been planned to enable students to examine several careers in-depth. As well, some general sessions will provide information on job search techniques, the programs offered at the University of Alberta, NAIT and Grant MacEwan College, and how to obtain financial assistance to pursue a post-secondary education.

All sessions will be held in the morning on March 7 and parents and other interested members of the community are cordially invited to visit Paul Kane High School and to attend any session they wish.

Further information may be obtained by calling the school at 459-4405.

Home of the Week

Contemporary styling for gracious living

Plan No. P-3-3-178

Here is a smart contemporary home designed for gracious living and one of the first in a series to be presented by St. Albert Gazette as a weekly service to our readers.

The exterior has clean modern lines with expansive areas of glass panels, contrasting the horizontal natural siding and stucco finish. The double carport could easily be enclosed as a garage, if you prefer.

Twin front doors lead to the split-entry foyer. On the left there is a stairway to the unfinished basement and on the right the wide stairway ascends to the family living areas.

A combined living-dining room features a wood-burning fireplace and creates a large entertaining area or just a plain family living room. Sliding glass doors from the dining-end open to the rear sundeck, providing extra entertaining space and room for outdoor eating during the warmer weather.

Large and convenient, the kitchen has a center cooking island and room for all the latest appliances. The floor area allows for a nook near the sliding door to the rear sundeck. The sloping ceiling over the kitchen is ideally suited for the installation of a skylight, making best possible use of natural light during the day. A step-saving door directly into the dining-living area, and a door to the upper hall and front entry, emphasize the practical design of the kitchen.

Off the central hall a twin vanity bathroom acts as a guest powder room, as well as serving the two smaller bedrooms. Linen, broom and coat closets are all located conveniently in this central area.

The rear-view master bedroom, located for privacy, has a luxurious walk-in closet and the room itself is large enough to hold a full suite, and with expert arrangement, easy chairs and a colour TV. A three piece shower ensuite has a large vanity and a large rear window.

An unfinished basement covers three-quarters of the plan area, with the balance taken up by the carport. Here you will find roughed-in plumbing and a fireplace for future development.

Only forty-eight feet in width, this home can be built in most municipalities on the average sixty foot lot.

Plans for Design No. P3-3-178 may be obtained at a cost of $78 for a set of three and $9 for each additional set. Allow $2 to cover postage and handling.

To view more than 100 well-designed quality homes of every type, send for the current publication of Canadian House plans,

Religious beliefs versus law pose many questions

Under a new opinion Amish, Holdeman and Mennonite peoples will have to send their children to a public or private school until they are 16 years old in the state of Kansas.

Formerly the state took the position that it would not interfere with religious beliefs of people who took their children out of public schools in order to safeguard their religious values.

Under the new opinion such children will have to be in an alternative program approved by the state board of education until age 16, for which they can enroll in either a public or private church school. The former Attorney General of Kansas said it was unconstitutional for the state board to set standards for the education of such children.

A recent test case in southern Alberta is still to be decided. One family kept their children out of school to bring the question of church versus public schooling for Mennonites before the courts in Alberta.

Meanwhile in Indiana, a Superior court has ruled that the Amish and members of the Pentecostal House of Prayer will be exempt from a law requiring photographs on drivers' licenses, which is against their religious beliefs.

PARENTS LOSE RIGHT OF CUSTODY FROM MOONIES

The California Court of Appeals has ruled that the placement of five young people from age 21 to 25 years in the temporary custody of their parents is unconstitutional. The young people were members of the Unification Church (Moonies) and Judge S. Lee Vavuris had previously ruled that "the parent must decide what is best for their child."

In Canada, an Ontario woman has recently stated that she will sell her home if necessary, to raise the money to get her child free from the Moonies and deprogrammed from what she considers the brainwashing done on the child by the Moonies. A number of cases have been publicized in which parents and/or friends have "smuggled" young people away from the Moonies and were successful in evading the police and getting them deprogrammed and "en home."

The so-called Moonie cases could eventually raise difficult consideration of the whole question of managed behaviour and the techniques of behavioralism presently being taught and studied as a social science. It would seem entirely possible that individuals may in future, raise the issue of whether or not "Behaviouralism" studies infringe on human rights or freedoms.

I WONDER IF
MY HEART?

OCTOBER 5

Today my life began. My parents do not know it yet. I am as small as a seed of an apple, but it is I already. And I am to be a girl. I shall have blond hair and azure blue eyes. Just about everything is settled though. Even the fact that I shall love flowers.

OCTOBER 19

I have grown a little, but I am still too small to do anything by myself. My mother does just about everything for me. And what is odd she still doesn't even know that she is carrying me here under her heart, and that she is helping me already, that she is even feeding me with her blood. She is so good. Some say that I am not a real person yet, that only my mother exists. But I am a real person, just as a small crumb of bread is yet truly bread. My mother is. And I am.

OCTOBER 23

My mouth is just beginning to open now. Just think, in a year or so I shall be laughing, and later talking. I know that my first word shall be ... Mama.

OCTOBER 28

My heart began to beat today all by itself. From now on it shall gently beat for the rest of my life, without ever stopping to rest. And after many years it will tire, it will stop and then I shall die.

NOVEMBER 2

I am growing a bit every day. My arms and legs are beginning to take shape. But I have to wait a long time yet before those little legs will raise me to my mother's arms, before those little arms will be able to gather flowers and embrace my father.

NOVEMBER 12

Tiny fingers are beginning to form on my hands. Funny how small they are. I shall be able to stroke my mother's hair with them. And I shall take her hair to my mouth and she will probably say, "Oh, nasty."

NOVEMBER 20

It wasn't until today that the doctor told Mom that I am living here under her heart. Oh, how happy she must be. Are you happy, Mom?

NOVEMBER 25

My Mom and Dad are probably thinking about a name for me. But they don't even know that I am a little girl. They are probably saying Andy. But I want to be called Cathy. I am getting so big now.

DECEMBER 10

My hair is growing. It is smooth and bright and shiny. I wonder what kind of hair Mom has?

DECEMBER 13

I am just about able to see. It is dark around me. When Mom brings me into the world, it will be full of sunshine and flowers. I have never seen a flower, you know. But what I want more than anything is to see my Mom. How do you look Mom?

DECEMBER 24

I wonder if Mom hears the whispering beat of my heart? Some children come into the world a little sick. And then the delicate hands of the doctor perform miracles to bring them to health. But my heart is strong and healthy. It beats so evenly tup-tup-tup - You'll have a healthy little daughter, Mom.

DECEMBER 28

... TODAY MY MOTHER KILLED ME ...

- Copied.

From zero to abundance- racquet sports will mushroom in St. Albert

The continent's fastest growing sport will soon physically manifest itself in three different facilities in our city.

In addition to the four racquetball course planned for the new swimming pool on Sir Winston Churchill Avenue there are two private facilities being constructed.

RIEL DRIVE FACILITY

Gazette readers will be familiar with a quarter page advertisement now running in our sports pages requesting interested persons to fill in a form in return for a brochure explaining the operations and facilities of the St. Albert Racquet Club.

The club will soon begin construction of a facility on Riel Drive between St.

Albert Auto Haus and LBH Home Improvement Centres. It will house six racquetball - handball courts and two squash courts.

In addition to the courts the St. Albert Racquetball Club will also offer exercise room facilities, ladies and mens locker rooms including showers and saunas and a childrens daytime care centre within the 12,600 square foot complex.

Plans provide for attractive lounge facilities with spectator viewing of the playing areas, as well as a pro-shop which will serve as an equipment sales and rental outlet.

The club plans to open in July or August of this year.

Construction is to start in a matter of days on St. Albert's other private facility on Perron Street across from the Arena.

Racquet sports offer wide attraction

A quest has been launched by the North American population, spending millions of dollars, seeking an activity that is an enjoyable experience and one that provides a healthful, physical workout.

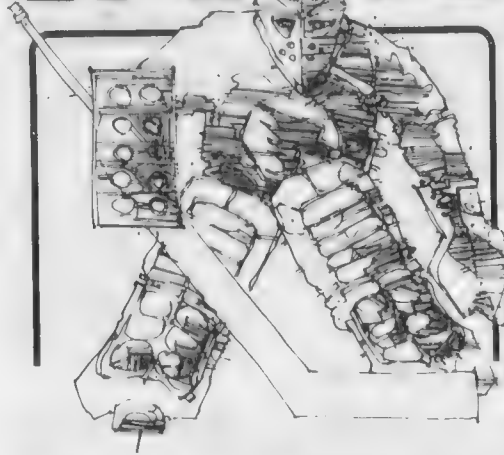

Ideally the ultimate activity would also be inexpensive, easily learned by both men and women, and something which returns the most benefits for the time invested.

Golf, tennis, bowling, skiing and assorted other activities have tried to provide the answers and all are very successful in their own right.

Saints christen new arena with pair of wins

The new Akinsdale Arena was the site for two St. Albert Junior Saints games on the weekend and it met the approval of the team as they defeated both Pincher Creek Chinooks and Taber Golden Suns rather easily.

The brand new facility opened Saturday night with the Saints taking only 27 seconds to score as Mark Messier beat Chinook goalie Ray Prive enroute to a 8-3 win.

Sunday the Saints exploded for three goals in the first period and coasted to a 6-2 win over Taber who were eliminated from the playoffs with the loss.

The pair of wins increased the Saints lead on top the seven-team Alberta Junior

"A" Hockey League to three points over Fort Saskatchewan Traders who won both their weekend games to overtake Calgary Canucks.

Traders defeated Pincher Creek 5-4 Friday night and took Taber 9-7 Saturday while Calgary Canucks slipped into third as a result of a 6-5 loss Sunday afternoon in Calgary.

Saints have now won 15 of their last 20 games and have 75 points in 55 games. Traders have 72 points in 56 games and are two points ahead of Calgary who have played 55.

Edmonton Crusaders are all alone in fourth spot with 59 points in 58 games. Red Deer has 50 points and Pincher Creek has nailed down the last playoff spot with 38 points.

The league schedule will finish this Sunday with the playoffs expected to start early next week. The playoff pairings will see the first place club against the sixth, second against fifth and third place playing fourth.

INCH SCORES THREE

Dave Inch, playing in only his 11th game of the season led the Saints attack with three goals combined with singles by Mark Messier and Ken Solheim the hat-trick gave St. Albert a 5-0 lead late in the second period.

Also scoring for the Saints were Jeff Elkow, Gerard

Jubenville and Jay McFarlane. Dan Krutz, Blair Peebles and Ray Cote replied for the Chinooks who managed only 18 shots at Ken Bales in the Saints goal. Prive had a busy night facing 42 Saints shots.

Dachyshyn storms Fort

A goal by Dean Dachyshyn with 2:07 gone in sudden death overtime last night gave the St. Albert Junior Saints a 2-1 win over Fort Saskatchewan Traders.

DEAN DACHYSHYN

A capacity crowd of 798

watched one of the most entertaining games of the season that saw both teams go end-to-end for the complete game.

Saints goaltender Pierre Lamoureux was named the game's most valuable player stopping 34 shots including a breakaway in the last minute of play.

Saints other goal came from Captain Keith Hertz late in the second to tie the game 1-1. Matty Achtymichuk scored the Traders only goal.

The win moved St. Albert five points up on the Fort and they still have a game in hand.

Boxing club sweeps Fort Saskatchewan card

The St. Albert boys boxing club took seven fighters to Fort Saskatchewan for a card on February 19.

Results - A clean sweep for St. Albert with seven wins including two by knockout.

In the 1977-78 boxing season our St. Albert boxers have only lost one bout and that was via a close split decision.

This is particularly impressive in view of the fact that all bouts were held outside of St. Albert. Home-town decisions are not uncommon in amateur boxing yet the St. Albert boys have participated in the Alberta Bronze Glove Championships, a Dinner Card in Edmonton and Tournaments in Peace River, Fort Saskatchewan, etc. and have only one loss in 23 bouts.

Following is summary of how our St. Albert boxers fared in Fort Saskatchewan:

Sean Wharton (60 lbs.) - won by decision. This was Sean's first bout and was a real crowd pleaser. Sean trained hard for this bout and it showed as he won by a large margin.

Peter Richmond (110 lbs.) - won by decision over Joe Callahsen of Grouard. Peter showed why he is a provincial champion in this very tough bout as he gave away a Please Turn to Page 24

Scorpions finish on top in Sturgeon Senior action

Calahoo Scorpions, 13-4 win over Riviere Qui Barre last Wednesday has earned them first place in the west division over Morinville. It also gives them first place in the overall standings of the 11-team Sturgeon Valley Senior Hockey League.

The season was a complete turnabout for Calahoo, as they failed to make the playoffs last season.

Some excellent off-season recruiting by coach Stubb Berube paid off and produced an exciting team.

Scorpions finished with 48 points in the west division, one more than Morinville Frontiersman.

The second place finish for Morinville put them into a best of three playoff series with Bon Accord and they quickly won that series in straight games with 8-1 and 9-7 wins.

The other series between Legal and Onoway is all tied at one game each with Legal winning the opener 15-2 and then dropping the second 10-9. The third game was to have been played Tuesday night but the results were not known at press time.

Morinville will now meet Gibbons in a best of five Please Turn to Page 32

St. Albert Junior Saints played their first game in the new Akinsdale Arena Saturday night and came away with a well deserved 8-3 win over Pincher Creek Chinooks. Centre ice-man Mark Messier (dark uniform) scored on his opening shift with just 27 seconds gone and the Saints never looked back. Saints also won Sunday over Taber Golden Suns 6-2 and then won 2-1 in overtime last night against Fort Saskatchewan. The win moves St. Albert five points ahead of the Fort with a game in hand and only four games left to play.

considerable amount of weight to an excellent opponent. This was a rematch of a close fight the two had for the Bronze Glove championship. Peter remains undefeated in four bouts including one by knockout.

Todd Kathol (75 lbs.) - won by decision. This was Todd's first fight and he won easily.

A good boxer-puncher Todd is always in superb condition. His style in the ring is very similar to that of his older brother Neil, who is a provincial champion and is undefeated in five bouts.

Martin Teuber (105 lbs.) - won by decision. A very strong fighter, Martin won handily even though his more experienced opponent from Sherwood Park had 15 previous bouts. Martin is a provincial champion and is undefeated in four bouts including three by knockouts.

Craig Scott (100 lbs.) - won by second round knockout. This was Craig's first fight and his opponent weighed 11 lbs. more than the St. Albert boxer. Craig was not impressed however and after two rounds of non-stop punching his opponent was unable to continue.

Michael Richmond (80 lbs.) - won by first round knockout. Michael had lost a questionable split decision in the Bronze Gloves and was not about to leave anything to chance in this bout. A thunderous right hand body punch in the first round stopped his opponent from Grouard dead in his tracks. Michael has now won two out of three bouts.

Dave Stephen (95 lbs.) - won by decision. This was Dave's first fight and he won with ease. Dave is an excellent stand up boxer and his opponents bull like rushes might have been a problem to a boxer with less skill and ability than Dave.

Manager Del Larsen and coach Taffy Williams were elated and very proud of the club's performance.

Del worked the corner and also served as a judge for some of the other bouts. He commented on the boys ability to follow instructions and their good sportsmanship.

Taffy stated that conditioning, pride and ability were the determining factors in the boys success.

The St. Albert team, in Fort Saskatchewan, consisted of eight boys and four adults. Trainers Wilf and Sheldon "Bomber" Davis of the Fort Saskatchewan Boxing Club connects with a left hook to the head of Sean "Tiger" Wharton of the St. Albert Boxing Club. Wharton, however, got in a few punches of his own as he won the bout on a unanimous decision. Photo from Fort Saskatchewan Record

Pete Richmond saw that every member of the team were wearing their St. Albert Boys Boxing Club jackets that were purchased recently. These attractive jackets are white with blue trim (the club colours) and have "St. Albert Boys Boxing Club" embroidered on the back.

There is a physiological edge in having 12 people proudly wearing their club jackets and behaving as a well disciplined and confident team walking into a tournament. Wilf and Pete are largely responsible for this and it has played a major part in the club's success.

Pete and Wilf, in addition to arranging transportation, taking care of all equipment, bandaging hands, gloving etc., have all the boys working as a team.

St. Albert's domination of junior boxing in Alberta is becoming more evident as it becomes more difficult to arrange bouts for our boys.

Managers of other clubs have advised Del that their boys are well aware of the teams record of winning and are reluctant to fight any boxer from St. Albert.

The St. Albert boxing club will be taking five or six boxers to Medicine Hat for the Winter Games on March 4 and 5.

Comets start provincial play Saturday

St. Albert Comets, run-away leader in the tough Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League, play their first game in provincial playoff action Saturday when they travel to Calgary to take on the defending "A" champion, Calgary Trojans, in the first game of a two-game total goal series.

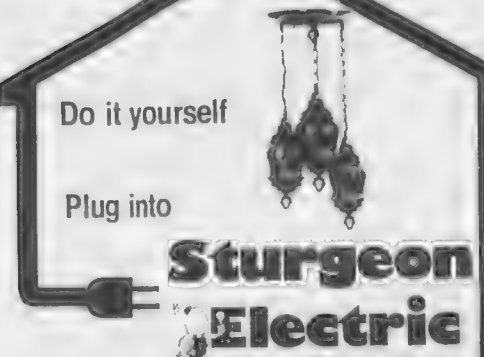

Comets, who are the defending "B" champs will play the second game in St. Albert on Saturday, March 11th.

The winner of this series will advance in the "A" division against the winner of the Stony Plain Eagle/Fort McMurray series, while the loser will drop into the "B" division and play the loser of that Stony/McMurray series.

HOCKEY ACTION

The Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League is now into the final week of regular season play with the last three games being played Sunday.

St. Albert Junior Saints have a three point lead with five games left although both the second place Fort Saskatchewan Traders and third spot Calgary Canucks, all have a shot at it should the Saints falter.

On the other hand St. Albert needs only three wins to clinch first place and they could do it as early as Thursday night with wins over the Traders in St. Albert (last night), Red Deer tonight in St. Albert and Thursday night in Edmonton against the Crusaders.

Including last nights games here are the following important games left between the three contenders: St. Albert - Fort Saskatchewan (2); Red Deer (1); Edmonton (1); and Calgary. Fort Saskatchewan - St. Albert (2); Red Deer (1); and Calgary. Calgary - St. Albert (1); Fort Saskatchewan (1); Pincher Creek (1); Edmonton (1); and Taber.

As soon as playoff positions are known, they will be carried over most radio stations on the weekend as they will start most likely on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Uganda coming to Games

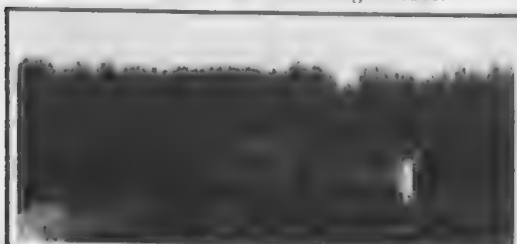

The Organizing Committee for the 1978 Commonwealth Games confirmed this week that Uganda has become the 37th nation to indicate it will be participating in The Games.

A telex from the Uganda Council of Sports has indicated the African nation will send a team of athletes who will compete in men's and women's athletics and boxing.

Uganda is the seventh of 13 nations in the African block which has indicated it will compete in the Commonwealth Games to be held in Edmonton, August 3 to 12.

Rob Boddez shows some of the concentration that helped win the 13 year old boys free-throw competition. The contest sponsored by the District Knights of Columbus was held at Sir George Simpson School last Saturday. Rob sank 14 of 25 attempts.

COACHES URGENTLY NEEDED

Call Soccer: 459-7609; Fastball: 458-2405

Coaches Corner

By Doug Messier
Coach of St. Albert Junior Saints Hockey team

The new arena is beautiful, isn't it? And it's ready, due to a truly great effort by the staff. On behalf of the "Saints," I would like to thank them for their efforts in overcoming the difficulties they've encountered.

The Saints are proud to make it their home and feel it is the beginning of one of the most successful franchises in the A.J.H.L.

What does it take for success? First an executive who are willing to donate countless hours to take care of the many tasks required. Secondly, an appealing, competitive team who play entertaining hockey. Junior hockey has always been noted in the unpredictable and the mistakes which help to provide excitement and cause coaches to go grey. And thirdly, but most important, is the fan who makes it all possible. Without financial support a team cannot exist for long.

Many will be first-time fans this weekend because of the new building. Many will ask, "Why should I support the Saints? My boy doesn't play there." If the "Saints" executives felt that way there would be no team because many of them do not have potential Saints. They participated in the formation of the Saints because they believed what a team in the A.J.H.L. could provide for the people of St. Albert.

First, from strictly an entertainment stand point, the Saints have provided some truly paper games during the current season.

Secondly, and most important, is the opportunity it provides for the St. Albert hockey player to be able to stay at home while finishing grade 12 (usually by 17 years of age), and play an excellent brand of hockey which gives him the opportunity to intelligently choose his future. That future may be to go major junior; or to accept a V.S. college scholarship where the player can continue to combine athletics and education. College does not rule out a pro career as witnessed by the increasing numbers of college players in major league hockey.

The A.J.H.L. is the most prestigious Junior "A" tier II leagues in Canada. We have had scouts from numerous colleges at our games this winter. Almost every player on the Saints who is eligible will be offered a scholarship. Almost every player is being recruited by major junior teams. The choice will be one of the players and their parents but they do have the choice.

Some may say that's good except there are only three St. Albert residents on the team. That is true but only temporary. The play of Bernie Joyal is extremely encouraging and has to suggest to the intelligent hockey fan that the Sportshop Barons midjet team should graduate a number of players to the Saints next year. That will only be the beginning. The Saints will become the place to play for all the young hockey players in St. Albert.

Your support is appreciated. Help to build now for a continuous and lasting opportunity for the young hockey players in our town. We have only just begun.

Next article - St. Albert Saints pick their all opponents team and its "all-star" time in the A.J.H.L.

Oilers cling to third place in tight race

Despite losing two of three games played last week in the Coliseum, the Edmonton Oilers held onto third place in the tight WHA league standings.

Oilers hold a slim one point lead over the fourth place Houston Aeros after splitting a two-game series with the southerners.

Oilers lost 6-5 Wednesday with Aeros Cam Connor scoring the winner at 13:52 of the third period. Blair MacDonald had a pair to lead the Oilers, who outshot Houston 47 to 26 as Ernie Wakely came up big in goal.

second period, and it carried on into the third with the Oilers scoring three unanswered goals to narrow the gap to just one goal.

Bill Flett, Mike Zuke and Pierre Guite scored in a span of about four minutes midway through the final period but they couldn't get the equalizer before the buzzer sounded.

Oilers are at home tonight against the Cincinnati Stingers and Friday the Racers will be the visitors.

It will then be out on the road for Edmonton, as they play their next six games away from home, starting in Birmingham Sunday. They will be in Houston Tuesday and then have back-to-back games with the Stingers on Thursday and Saturday.

Oilers next home game won't be until March 17 when the Winnipeg Jets will be in town.

Fitness testing in St. Albert

Recreation Program Supervisor

Through efforts by a determined and concerned individual in our City, a Fitness Evaluation evening has been set up for March 7, 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at Lorne Akins school gym (see advertisement). Some of you might know this particular person as he is involved extensively in extra curricular school activities as well as community programs and projects. Mr. Roger Scott, Physical Education teacher at Lorne Akins School is the person I am referring to.

Well maybe that's enough flattery for now, but seriously, it's people like this that make good things happen recreationally speaking at least, for St. Albert residents. There are many people who deserve thanks but who are seldom appreciated for their countless volunteer hours spent organizing, coaching or assisting in some manner. Many pages of this newspaper could be filled with names of the volunteers of which I speak, but there are not nearly enough yet. This brings up another good thing happening in which volunteers and potential volunteers can learn how they can help more effectively; The St. Albert Teen Society is hosting a Community Congress on Volunteerism, Saturday, March 4 at the "Hideout" (Teen Centre, basement of the Day Care Centre, 6 Cunningham Road, (Next to Paul Kane High). See the Community Services Report for details.

I guess I can get off my soap box now and do what I am supposed to do; talk about Fitness. I just felt something should be said (and a lot more should!) about this city's volunteer core.

The fitness evaluation night is not aiming at examining physical condition through maximum stress testing, it is intended to be a some what low profile analysis of fitness with recommendations on how one stacks up at the present and may improve if need be.

If the response to this sort of physical condition testing is good, hopefully more of the same and possibly more extensive testing will be available. See you Tuesday night March 7. Everybody welcome!

AL HAMILTON

Friday night the Oilers won 5-4 on MacDonald's overtime goal. But they lost veteran Al Hamilton who stopped a slapshot with his left eyebrow midway through the first period. Hamilton, who was having a super season, is not expected back in the line-up for at least two weeks.

MacDonald's goal was his third of the night and 27th of the season.

Sunday, the second-place New England Whalers were the opposition and for a while it looked like the roof was about to cave in. The Whalers allowed Shmyr to open the scoring for the Oilers, but went on to score six straight.

Mike Antonovich led the Whalers with a pair while Allan Hangleben, Gordie Howe, Tim Sheehy and Mike Rodgers added singles.

Ab Demarco gave the Oilers a little spark with his third of the season late in the

Belvedere Series set for '78

The Alberta drag racing circuit will again have the backing of Benson and Hedges for the Belvedere Challenge Series.

The series - five races in Calgary and five at Edmonton's Speedway is expected to draw about 150 drivers from western Canada who will be competing for $10,000 prize money. Local track incentives will push this total over $40,000.

The series, under the sanction of the NHRA, begins April 23 at Calgary and concludes in the latter part of the summer in Edmonton.

Hercules take on boys fastball

The Hercules Sports Association made a decision during the winter layoff to organize boys fastball in St. Albert.

Under the supervision of Mike Rosseker, the Association is hoping that the boys league will be as successful as the girls league has been for the last few years.

All boys between the ages of 8 and 16 who are interested in playing fastball are to note that pre-registration will take place between March 1 and March 8 at the St. Albert Sportshop on Perron Street and RMC Sports Centre in Grandin Mall.

This pre-registration also applies to girls fastball and boys and girls soccer.

Cost of registration is $8 per child with a maximum of $20 per family.

RINGETTE AND FIELD HOCKEY

Where in the Hercules Sports Association the directors heard preliminary proposals from two sources regarding girls ringette and girls and boys field hockey.

Further information on these two sports will be coming shortly, but there does appear to be a demand for these sports in St. Albert.

At present booking time is at a premium for existing facilities in our city and our children must travel to Edmonton to participate.

The directors of the Association would like to thank the individuals concerned for their presentations and interest in the association.

HELP IS NEEDED!!

As is normal with any minor sports program, its success or failure is largely controlled by parental participation. Coaches, referees and umpires are needed in soccer and fastball.

Proficiency in either of these areas are not required only the desire to help.

Anyone interested in helping should contact Mike Rosseker at 458-2405 or Terry Adams at 459-7609.

This is one instance where "too many cooks do not spoil the broth."

Ken Solhelm (10) of the Junior Saints slipped the puck by the Pincher Creek goaltender Saturday night in St. Albert in the Saints 8-3 win. Mickey Volcan (19) is all set for the rebound which never came.

Leduc edges Calahoo in juvenile hockey tournament

The first-ever juvenile hockey tournament held in the sports-minded community of Calahoo last weekend provided the many fans with some excellent games to watch as some of the best 16 and 17 year olds displayed their talents.

The final game of the seven-team tournament went into sudden death overtime to decide the winner with Leduc Stingers winning 6-5 over Calahoo in "A" event.

Leduc led 2-0 early in the first period on goals by Keith Banner and George Adams before Rick Kreway scored for Calahoo with 40 seconds left.

Rick Bartlett put Leduc out in front 3-1 with only three minutes gone in the second period, before Ed Kieftenbelt replied for Calahoo midway through the period.

Stingers scored the final goal of the period with seven minutes left as both goaltenders came up with some excellent saves.

Brian Hermanutz with the first of three goals made it 4-3 at 9:29 and then with 49 seconds left in the game scored his second goal to tie the game.

a 5-4 lead on Murray Williams' goal.

Hermanutz didn't waste any time to tie the game, as he scored 11 seconds later to send the game into overtime.

Williams with his second of the night scored at the 5:15 mark of the sudden death overtime session to give Leduc the win.

In semi-final action Sunday, Leduc defeated Westlock Warriors 8-2 and Calahoo upset St. Albert 10-7.

In the "B" final, the game was also decided in sudden death overtime with Drayton Valley defeating Wabamun 4-3 on a goal by Jody Martin.

In Saturday's first round play, Westlock edged Drayton Valley 9-8, Leduc shutout Morinville 6-0, St. Albert Generals won over Waba-mun 5-1 and Calahoo won by default over Athabasca who failed to show as a result of not having enough players.

The tournament was well run, although one of the losing team coaches felt Calahoo should not have picked up some players to strengthen their team.

Strangely enough the coach of Leduc felt it made his team play that much better and their hard work won out.

Question - I have seen advertisements of the so called, climbing tree stands. They are supposed to be completely portable. Do you know how well they work? Bobby F. Answer - Although I have never personally used one, I have seen them in action and they are quite impressive.

One of the best designs is fitted with straps on the platform, under which the climber hooks his toes.

The climber first selects a tree that is free of limbs to the height he wishes to climb. He then fits the loose bar lock around the tree. Standing on the platform, facing the tree, he inserts his toes under the toe straps. He now reaches high, hugs the tree and withdraws his legs, bringing the stand with him. When he again applies downward pressure to the platform it locks into its new position, several inches above its previous location.

This procedure is continued until the desired height is reached.

Most of these stands fold to be carried on the hunters back. These stands should prove invaluable in areas that do not warrant permanent stands and on one day outings at different locations.

Sebastian leads Canadians to come-back provincials win

In the opening game of the Nu-West Canadians' Provincials playoffs with Leduc Elks, last Saturday at the Arena, the officials were 20 minutes late in appearing on the ice. Nevertheless, they beat the Canadians by a period and a half, as the local club took that long to get into the game.

Fortunately, Leduc didn't seem able to capitalize on the Canadians' uncertain skating and passing and managed only one first period goal, which was deflected in by a St. Albert defenseman.

Midway through the second period, St. Albert began to show some of its usual form, although Leduc's goalie Brad Nichols rose to the occasion, on one play robbing Tim Sebastian with a spectacular glove save on a point blank shot. However, a minute later, Nu-West's Emmanuel Viveiros, playing his first full game since an appendix operation, sped through the Elks and diked Nichols for a pretty goal, with Sebastian getting the assist.

Inspired by this, St. Albert pressed hard and, six minutes later, Darryn Ernest duplicated Viveiros' goal, almost exactly, with assists from Mike Lacroix and Tony Rouault.

At this point, St. Albert was really flying, but some very sloppy clearing work in their end allowed Leduc to tie it up, with two minutes left in the period. Again, however, Viveiros came to the rescue, scoring on a sweeping shot from a corner play.

This was St. Albert's last gasp. The third period, though even in play, went to Leduc, who just seemed to want the win a bit more than the Canadians. Midway, the Elks popped the tying goal with a high shot, then scored the 4-3 winner from a desperation golf shot with eight minutes left.

The second game of the two-game series was played in Leduc, Sunday. St. Albert obviously came to play in this one, but Leduc wasn't about to lie down for them. Early in the first, Tim Sebastian began his five point game with a goal which returned the series to even status.

The Canadians then bogged down and were forced onto the defensive by a few penalties. However, Darryn Ernest managed to put St. Albert ahead on a powerplay goal, and Tony Rouault popped another with three minutes left.

A minute later, Leduc scored on a rebound, then watched one of their players head for the penalty box with an illegal stick. Canadians almost immediately capitalized, with John Lenz doing the honours, to end the period's scoring.

The second frame began with both teams checking heavily. Although play was fairly even, Leduc managed twice to break up the ice to collect clean goals. At the mid-point, again on a powerplay, Sebastian notched his second, to temporarily relieve the pressure.

Three minutes later, Viveiros passed around behind the net to Lenz, who fed Sebastian in front, for a pretty teamwork goal.

However, perhaps the prettiest goal of the game came two minutes after, when Ernest flew down the ice after a St. Albert shorthanded clearing shot, to out-race two Elks, then nicely beat Nichols, putting Canadians three ahead. With two minutes left, Leduc narrowed the gap, again breaking in from the side.

The third period began poorly for the Nu-West club, which seemed disorganized, and its work-horses tired. After eight minutes, Leduc narrowed the series margin to one goal, from a melee in

Other Canadians receiving assists in the second game were: Lenz, Oor, Lacroix, and Iseke. In addition to the strong offensive showing from Sebastian, Ernest, Lenz and Viveiros; great checking efforts were produced by Brian Chai and Tony Baller.

The Nu-West Canadians now proceed to league playoffs with Sherwood Park Loadstars, and wait for the winners of Spruce Grove and the St. Albert RMC Saints, for the next stage of the Provincials.

Peewee reps bow to Spruce Grove

The RMC Sport Centre Saints played the Spruce Grove peewee reps in Spruce Grove Monday night. This group of 11 year old boys knew it wasn't going to be an easy evening for this was the Provincial A division playoffs and the Spruce Grove team was big, fast and well disciplined.

The Saints gave it all they had skating, checking tenaciously, and forcing the play deep in the Spruce Grove end, but time and again they were caught by long passes to the Spruce Grove wings, and they would be coming in on the Saints' goalie Scott Neil two or three and unopposed. Spruce Grove led 3-0 at the end of the first frame, 6-0 at the end of the second then went on to score four more in the third to end with a 10-0 lead in the two-game total point series.

It must be said the Saints had their chances but the puck wasn't bouncing their way. A little visit from lady luck would have made a difference in the scores but right to the last seconds of the game the Saints kept trying. Bobby Havens got away two fine shots on the Spruce Grove net but Jayson Sutherland was able to deflect them away. All the Saints played well but one in particular should be mentioned for his determination and solid play. Todd Kathol 'owned the corners' Monday night and time and again though it was hard to see him buried in the heavy traffic in front of the Spruce Grove net he was there digging and holding his ground.

The Saints had prepared for this game by playing top teams from the Edmonton A Division over the last week. They lost to a fine West Edmonton team 8-1 and came back to tie a west Edmonton team 5-5. Then in a rematch against Greenfields, whom they had met in the Lancaster Park tournament during Christmas week, the Saints just got by with a 5-4 win on Saturday. But they came back with a

The series against Spruce Grove continues at the new Akinsdale Arena next Monday night at 7 p.m.

Raiders grab series lead over Enoch

the vastly improved Enoch Chiefs. The two game/total goals series resumes tomorrow night at 8:45 in the Akinsdale Arena.

The Raiders line of Keith

Heyburn, Rob Tooth and Cliff Greening supplied most of the scoring punch in the opener played in the Enoch Recreation Centre. Tooth had a big night firing four goals and adding three assists. Greening had a five point game including a goal, while Heyburn added a pair of each to give the line a total of 16 points.

After the first 20 minutes, the Raiders knew they were not facing the same team they had rattled 13-1 earlier in the season. Tooth opened the scoring at 10:54, but the Chiefs knotted the count five minutes later to end the period at 1-1.

However, Heyburn turned things around at 8:17 with a goal, and within a minute, Greening and Heyburn stretched the lead to 8-5. Five minutes later Brad Hancock blasted one in from the point, but the Chiefs rounded out the scoring late in the game.

Territorial Leasing Sabres capture zone championship

The Bantam Sabres are Lethbridge bound for the Alberta Provincial Tournament as a result of their dual victories over the Leduc Blades last weekend. The Sabres 16-9 overall victory in the two-game total-point series gives them the right to represent Zone 7 the weekend of April 1 in the southern

DOWNED BY SHERWOOD PARK

The Sabres attempt to make the playoffs by knocking off the division-winning Sherwood Park Cougars was unsuccessful. The Sabres lost out 8-2 in the Thursday night game and 4-1 in the second game in St. Albert. The first game was all Sherwood Park as the Sabres could not capitalize on scoring chances. Rick Gray and Jim Owen notched up the St. Albert goals.

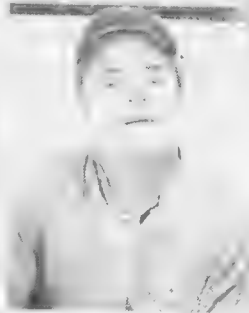

The Sabres put up a fight in the second game however, although they failed to maximize their opportunities in the first period, which went scoreless. Some excellent saves by John Sexsmith held the team in the game. All the scoring came in the second period, with the Park outscoring the Sabres 4-1. Don White picked up the lone Sabre goal. The Sabres inability to put the puck in the net shows up in the fact that they outshot the Cougars 32-22.

Sabres now have a month of exhibition games and practices to prepare themselves for the weekend in Lethbridge. Plans are also being made for a trip to Prince George, March 18. The Sabres would like to thank everyone who supported them throughout their league schedule and hope they will continue to do so.

RETURN MATCH AT ST. ALBERT

The Sabres came out flying in the first period with two goals by Captain Paul Kelly. It was a good night for Kelly who notched up a trio of goals by the night's end. Greg Miller piled on another goal in the first period, but Leduc bounced back with two goals. However, Mitch Poulin stopped the fledgling scoring streak, leaving the Sabres ahead 4-3 at the period's end.

In third period action, the Sabres decisively put an end to Leduc's ambitions. Paul Kelly scored his third goal three minutes into the period while Leduc was shorthanded. This set the pace as Brad Hammett, Jim Owen and Jason Swist rounded out

ROSS PENNINGTON
[Coach]

Each team potted four in the second with the Raiders holding a slight edge territorially. However, the St. Albert team had several good scoring chances with erratic shooting. Tooth, who seemed to be finding the range from all angles, blinked the red light three times while Jim Sawchuk netted a rebound for the Raiders.

Enoch opened the third in a fury, and it appeared St. Albert would be lucky to come away with a tie.

RON SWIST
[Coach]

The Raiders picked up four of 11 minor penalties called in the clean but hard hitting contest. Everything adds up to an interesting match tomorrow night to determine who advances to the second round of Provincial midget action.

The Integrated Building crew had to settle for second place behind Vegreville in Highway 14 League, and will meet fourth place Fort Saskatchewan in the semi-finals. Third place Sherwood Park are faced with the tough task of sidelining Vegreville, whose only loss of the season was to St. Albert on November 16. Opening dates for league playoffs were not available by press time today.

Raider Rebounds - Equipment manager Tony Rapati just has to be one of the best in the business locally; a tireless worker with no enemies ... Brent Galbraith

President of the St. Albert Minor Baseball Association, Lorne Ross, presents Bert LaBuick with a trophy and plaque in recognition of his contributions to the program. Bert was equipment officer for the association, the Mosquito Division Head, a coach and an umpire last season, which should have presented enough headaches to warrant the presentation. Mr. Ross assured the Gazette that baseball season will open April 29, again with a parade, and the opening games, provided all goes well. Lorne reminds interested youngsters that early bird registration is in progress, for more information please refer to advertisement in this section.

Paul Kane hosts Basketball tourney this weekend

The second annual Paul Kane Junior High School Basketball tournament will be held this Saturday, March 4th at the Paul Kane, Lorne Akins and V.J. Maloney gymnasiums. The tournament, sponsored again this year by Old Dutch, will feature 16 teams (eight boys and eight girls) from the Edmonton area: Sir George Simpson, Lorne Akins, Paul Kane Blues and V.J. Maloney Marauders from St. Albert as well as Edmonton's St. Alphonsus Spirit, Sherwood Heights from Sherwood Park, George Vanier of Morinville and the Sturgeon Heights junior high team.

Action gets underway at all three locations at 8 a.m. Saturday morning and proceeds throughout the day until the finals, with the girls slated for 5 p.m. and the boys on tap at 6:30 p.m. both in Paul Kane's main gym.

The tournament features a round-robin format, with games set to go every hour throughout the day. Each team will have the opportunity to test its skills three times, with the top two teams from each of four, four team pools moving into the sudden death semi-finals at 3 p.m.

The Marauders of St. Albert's V.J. Maloney appear to be pre-tourney favourites in both boys and girls events, as they lead their respective leagues in St. Albert junior high basketball action this season.

Not to be taken lightly are last years boy's champions, Sir George Simpson, back to defend their title. A strong Lorne Akins girls team will be looking to give Maloney girls all they wish to handle.

Sherwood Heights and St. Alphonsus should provide strong outside competition with both their boys and girls teams. Sturgeon Heights is bit of an unknown quantity, but St. Albert teams won't forget the outstanding girls volleyball team from that school, who won the St. Albert Fun Fest this past December.

The tournament will be a final tune-up for St. Albert teams before they move into playoff action next week. Maloney boys will meet Lorne Akins while Sir George Simpson and Paul Kane will tangle in the other semi-final boys match up. Both games are to be played Tuesday or Wednesday, March 7 or 8 with no dates or times finalized at this point.

The girls semi-finals will highlight the V.J. Maloney and Paul Kane's Blues tussle as well as Sir George Simpson at Lorne Akins. The finals are set for Friday, March 10 starting at 7 p.m. with the girls final and followed immediately by the boys. Both games are to be played at Paul Kane.

The tournament organizers are again grateful this year to Old Dutch for their strong support of the junior high basketball program.

Thanks goes out to Dave Lewis and the crew at Old Dutch Foods Ltd.

[Valley Potato Grower]

That's the message from Dr. Donald Johnson, a Canadian orthopaedic surgeon in Christchurch for the New Zealand Federation of Sports Medicine conference.

He should know, Dr. Johnson, director of the sports medicine clinic, Carleton University, Ottawa, is himself a marathon runner and a former university hockey representative.

He suggests athletes follow a dietary regimen of around 50 percent compound carbohydrates, 20 to 25 percent fat.

And probably the best source of compound carbohydrates (for energy and body storage) is the humble potato, he says. Many North American runners, just before the big event, consume a big plate of boiled potatoes.

"In the late 1950's when I did my training, it was steak ... the fellows on the field would vomit ... your body's trying to tell you something ... you certainly don't need excessive protein. Most people training at an elite level are better on a diet of about 50 percent compound carbohydrates."

With the exception of weight training, most people had moved off protein, he said.

Several days before the event, he said, try to deplete all carbohydrate in the body. Then about three days before the event "stuff it all back in again." It produces a high energy build-up.

Dr. Johnson also advocates using a vitamin supplement - about 250mg to 500mg vitamin C daily-for healing and replenishing that which is lost in sweat. Vitamin C is a vital part of ligament soft tissue healing,

Saints

Saints took 10 of 14 penalties handed out by referee Ory Mandryk including a pair of fighting majors to both teams.

LAMOUREUX SHUTS DOOR

Saints' goaltender Pierre Lamoureux had a superb game coming up with 26 saves. Many of these were excellent scoring chances for the Golden Suns who had to win the game if they were to stay in the playoff race.

Darrell Morrow scored (his 33rd of the season) on a slapshot early in the first period and before the first 20 minutes were over the Saints had a 3-0 lead. They never looked back. Mike Moskalyk and Dave Inch added the other goals.

In the second period Rick Hendricks gave St. Albert a 4-1 lead with Terry Lowe replying for Taber.

Dale Setoguchi scored the other Taber goal in the second period and Solheim and Inch rounded out the Saints scoring in the third.

Saints were assessed seven of 13 penalties, all minors, by referee Ron Burwash.

St. Albert plays in Edmonton Thursday against the Crusaders, and finishes off their schedule with games on Saturday against Calgary in St. Albert and Sunday in Fort Saskatchewan.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Effective March 6, 1978; the transit bus which leaves downtown Edmonton at 16:35 and arrives at the St. Albert Terminal at 17:13, will depart from the Terminal at 17:13 as an A10 run (St. Albert North). The A-6 (St. Albert East) run, which this transit bus presently makes at 17:13, will be replaced by a school bus and St. Albert East passengers will have to transfer at the terminal.

This change is being made to accommodate the majority of users arriving at the Terminal at 17:10, and who are travelling into the north. This change should also eliminate the present overloading of the A-10 school bus run.

COUPONS AND PASSES

St. Albert Transit Coupons and Passes (except Senior Citizens' passes) are available at the following businesses: Bank of Montreal; Emery's Pipe Shop; Edmonton Savings and Credit Union; Fruit Basket and Klondike Inn (coupons only).

Coupons and all passes, including senior citizens' passes, are also available at the St. Albert Public Library.

For additional information contact the City of St. Albert, Sir Winston Churchill Avenue and Grandin Road, St. Albert, T8N 0G2 or phone 459-6601.

Until recently, though there has never been one sport that could give North Americans and people all over the world everything they might possibly want.

The ultimate answer is racquetball, the fastest growing sport in North America. What started as a local game in Southern California has exploded with unbelievable growth and popularity all over Canada and the United States.

Squash on the other hand is a veritable oldtimer. It got its start in a London prison where a walled off area was used for a game with a racket and ball. Upon being introduced to North America in 1882, squash quickly spread thru schools and clubs.

Today's squash player can choose between two variations of the game, American and International - depending on the size of the court he plays on and the "speed" of the ball used.

Unlike the boom enjoyed by golf, tennis and bowling, racquetball has grown at a fantastic rate without the benefit of professional or nationwide promotion.

Squash, even though it has been played for a comparatively longer period of time, is just coming into its own in terms of visibility and accessibility to the general public and it is fast gaining in popularity on racquetball.

The primary reason, though, for the growth of racquetball and squash has been the people who play it. Men and women players, from the junior levels to the Golden Masters, have spread the word causing this exciting phenomenon.

A Madison Avenue promotion campaign could not hope to duplicate the excitement and the enthusiasm over this game as that generated by the people who try it and love it.

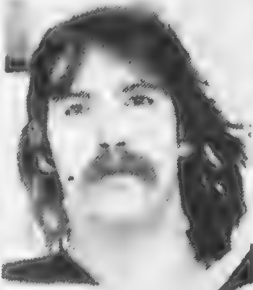

Obviously, there are more than the emotional reasons why racquetball and squash have enjoyed so much recent success. This unprecedented growth rate is generally credited to the universal appeal of the sports which offer:

1. A thoroughly enjoyable game.
2. Quick skill development - even a first time player will experience instant gratification and enjoyment.
3. Physical Fitness - intense physical exercise in a very short period of time.
4. Equal attraction for men and women.
5. Inexpensive equipment and playing facilities with the emergence of the commercial court club.

Scorpions trim McMurray in provincial action

Calahoo Scorpions, down one goal going into the second game of a two-game total-goal series, scored a convincing 7-2 win Saturday night in Calahoo over Fort McMurray.

McMurray won the opening game in McMurray by a close 3-2 score but could not contain the Scorpions in the friendly confines of the Calahoo Coliseum.

CLAUDE REGIMBALD

Scorpions well outplayed McMurray in the opening period but managed only one goal, when Claude Regimbald scored from Frank Banham and Terry Bauman.

The lone goal was enough to tie the series though, and it gave the Scorpions the lift they were looking for as they came out flying in the second period and outscored their opponents three goals to one.

Regimbald added two more to complete a hat trick and John Kokotilo scored his first of the three goals he would score before the game was over.

Scorpions took advantage of some poor sportsmanship displayed by Fort McMurray, and scored three more times in the final period.

Kokotilo scored a pair in a row and Andre Contant added the other on an end-to-end rush that resulted in a beautiful goal.

McMurray took 15 of 20 penalties called - including a match for spearing, and two gross misconducts for abusive language to the officials.

The swearing from the McMurray players was heard throughout the arena and severe suspensions are expected to be levied when referee John Jones report of the game reaches Alberta Amateur Hockey Association offices later in the week.

Scorpions now advance to the Provincial "C" final of Draw "B" against the winner of the Edmonton Speedy/Peace River series. Edmonton won the first game 5-3 with the second game to be played sometime this week.

Generals start provincials Friday

St. Albert Standard Generals juveniles start their first round of provincial playoffs this Friday in Stony Plain.

The game will be televised by CFRN and will be shown on Saturday Sports Special, March 4.

The second game of the two-game total-goal series will be played in St. Albert Thursday, March 9 at 8:15 p.m. in the "new" arena in Akinnsdale.

The Generals have finished their schedule in the Highway 16 Juvenile League and have clinched a playoff spot. The league ends this weekend at which time the Generals opposition in the best of three playoffs will be known.

A LONG WAY

A nickel goes a long way these days. You can carry it around for weeks without finding something you can buy with it.

When a man retires it's nice if his wife has hobbies she can share with him - like caddyding, bartending and cleaning fish.

Fourteen year old bantam Dave Donnelly playing with the Edmonton all-star midget 'AA' team had his dream come true last Thursday at the Coliseum (photo) with his goal against the touring Soviet National midget team. The international game seen by 6,900 people, saw the Soviet club rally back in the third period to tie the Edmonton club 3-3. The all-stars led 2-0 on goals by Tom McGillivray (12:43) of the first period and Dave Donnelly (2:21) seconds before Pavel Volkov replied for the Soviets. Dennis Ostapchuk put Edmonton up 3-1 with 30 seconds to go in the period. Russia's Sergei Svatlov stole a pass in Edmonton's end to close the gap 3-2, and they scored the tying goal a few minutes later.

of 30. After several moves around St. Albert to accommodate a growing number of students, Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Smith decided to build their own facility, now located on St. Anne Street.

In just three short years the dancing school saw its enrollment jump from 300 to 500 and is now bursting at the seams.

Last September plans began to be formulated for a new, larger facility and these 'snowballed' to include an entire fitness complex totalling 20,000 square feet.

Besides expanded dance school facilities, the St. Albert Fitness and Court Club will be introducing a gymnastics program and a ladies keep fit program.

The complex will have six racquetball - handball courts and four squash courts, a Nautilus exercise room, a gymnasium providing a volleyball court, basketball court and three badminton courts, a large sauna and whirlpools, locker room area, lounge area (with plans for ping pong and pool), and a pro shop.

A second stage to construction, scheduled to begin once the first stage has been completed, will house two indoor tennis courts.

The first phase should be complete by July or August and must be ready for September when dance lessons recommence. The school vacates their present building in June.

The St. Albert Fitness and Court Club will be accepting applications soon at the dancing school building on St. Anne Street.

CITY FACILITY

The new swimming complex on Sir Winston Churchill will contain an exercise room and outdoor tennis courts in addition to the racquetball courts, regulation pool and training pool.

The private clubs have not yet publicly set their fees but these should be available very soon.

The Fitness and Court Club will run entirely by membership and Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Smith say there will be no additional charge beyond this. At present similar clubs in the City of Edmonton charge membership fees plus an additional charge to book time on the courts.

The St. Albert Racquet Club has made no announcement on its particular fee setup at this time, although both clubs say they will be reasonably priced.

Both clubs will offer a babysitting service to make access for mothers much easier.

They also will offer league set-ups and the possibility of competition with Edmonton clubs which will number six in the near future.

Facilities in connection with the new covered swimming pool will be public and operated by the City of St. Albert.

Sturgeon Gazette

Rita was congratulated by Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhauer for her achievement in earning guiding's highest honour, the Canada Cord.

Spotlight on Sturgeon

People have final say over county system

The recent MD of Sturgeon "power-play" over the Sturgeon School Division #24 because it feared that that body was getting too powerful in its own right could backfire in time on the MD, even though the MD has the power to try and see the move through without going to the people.

And the County type of government itself has only been in vogue since the County Act of 1950 made it possible anyway, the first counties coming into being in 1951. It was in 1961 that the present Municipal District of Sturgeon #90 became a county and was then dissolved in July 1965. It all seems a case of deja vu, and it will be interesting to see if the MD of Sturgeon backs down when it meets with elected Sturgeon school district officials Thursday morning.

If the MD of Sturgeon does revert to county status it will mean that the school division will wither to committee status and will have very much less power over the education purse strings. There will have to be another election in Sturgeon with possibly 11 seats vacant to make room for school committee representation. However, under the law, the Sturgeon School Division must still have a superintendent.

Some people might object that under a new system, the people with education expertise might be passed by for people with considerably less instinct in the educational affairs.

Anyway, if Sturgeon presses ahead with getting its county system again, it will have to abide ultimately by the decision of the Lieutenant Governor, he will decide whether Sturgeon becomes a county or not.

People may recall that it was the Social Credit government which wanted to promote the county system.

And ultimately it is the people who have the choice if they wish to get out of the county system. They may not be able to vote it in, but they sure can vote it out once the necessary referendum is taken.

Rita Verbeek earns Canada Cord

Fourteen year old Rita Verbeek has once again illustrated that most goals are attainable if enough strength and determination are brought to bear. On Monday night, Rita, who is confined to a wheelchair, received the Girl Guide Movement's highest award -- the Canada Cord. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Verbeek of Morinville, and has resided at the Glenrose Hospital in Edmonton for the past eight years.

This is not the first time that Rita has been singled out for tribute by the Girl Guides. Four years ago, at age 10, she received the Guide Badge of Fortitude. This award is rarely given, having been presented only three times in the last 12 years across Canada.

Rita began her guiding experience at the age of six when she joined the Brownie pack at the Glenrose. In the intervening years she has earned badges for numerous activities, and has enjoyed the work involved. She can often be seen, pen in hand, writing one of the numerous letters she likes to send friends and relatives.

On Monday night, Rita and 119 other guides gathered at St. Joseph's Cathedral in Edmonton for the Canada Cord Certificates presentation. Area Commissioner Mrs. R. M. Nelson told the assembly that the Canada Cord was the highest

Anxiety over possible return to county status

Sturgeon School Division #24 Chairperson Lois Hole expressed surprise this week at the news that the MD of Sturgeon #90 was actively thinking of a return to county status. She was cautious in speaking of the MD's move, as Sturgeon council and elected school board officials will meet Thursday morning in Morinville to discuss the situation.

Following is what Mrs. Hole told the Gazette Monday:

"My feeling is that I am really surprised and kind of anxious to see what the MD will say when they meet with us.

"(It's just going to be elected people)."

"I'm really surprised I'd have to admit that, and I'd like to find out why and we will find that out at the meeting."

"I'm surprised it happened so soon after an election. I think the people were quite satisfied at the way-school business was running. Maybe the MD has some reasons I do not know anything about.

"Our board has no position as far as the county system is concerned. It's something that has never come up before. We will wait and see what happens at this meeting then we will know better what the score is.

"We do not want to hold a meeting without all the school board members being present."

Sturgeon cautious on handling Evergreen dogs

The MD of Sturgeon is not exactly washing its hands of the dog control problem in the Evergreen Mobile Home Park, but it is suggesting that the solution of the problem rests largely in the park management's hands.

At the regular meeting of the MD last week it was moved that the solution to the problem should be left to private enterprise.

The motion came out of a discussion arising from a request from Park Manager John French that the MD council should research and provide legislation for catching and disposing of stray dogs which terrorize the mobile home park.

A letter told how in the 3,000 population community which is in the MD's electoral boundaries, packs of dogs are molesting children, ravaging garbage, snapping at people's heels and interbreeding.

Apparently the park management has gone to the Alberta Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in an attempt to solve the problem. But it would be up to the MD to bring in the legislation to allow for the pick-up of stray dogs.

The MD would have to appoint a person to supervise dog control in the Evergreen area and the considerations would have to be set out by the ASPCA president.

Statistics released from the ASPCA to the MD and Evergreen Mobile Home Park showed that the Society is destroying 35,000 stray dogs a year, 40,000 cats with 15-20,000 being "farmed out" for adoption.

According to information which came up at the meeting, other areas in Sturgeon which have been affected by stray dogs problems are Recyda Vista and Viscount Estates.

Arena, road improvements for Riviere Qui Barre

There could be some moves shortly to improve the quality of life in the hamlet of Riviere Qui Barre.

At the regular meeting of the MD of Sturgeon last week the MD committed itself to supplying an undisclosed amount of funding for road improvements near the community as well as paving the ice-surface at the arena.

Road improvement requested is the access into the village from Secondary Road 794 to cut down the dust problem. And because Department of Highway crews are out asphaltting sections of SR 794, Jim Kyle of the Riviere Qui Barre Agricultural Society wants them to include paving the arena surface and village access roads in their work program.

Commenting about the improvements, MD councillor Clay Crozier said: "I think it is a good idea to see if we can get it done, it would not cost much to the MD."

A letter will be sent to Riviere Qui Barre informing them of council's support in these matters.

These industrious youths spent part of their lunch hour break from school for the construction of a family of snowpeople in the school yard last week, when the spring-like weather brought hordes of people out of hibernation.

Morinville woman given increased compensation

A Morinville woman who was shot in the eye and an Edmonton man who was assaulted outside a hotel have been awarded compensation by Alberta's Crimes Compensation Board.

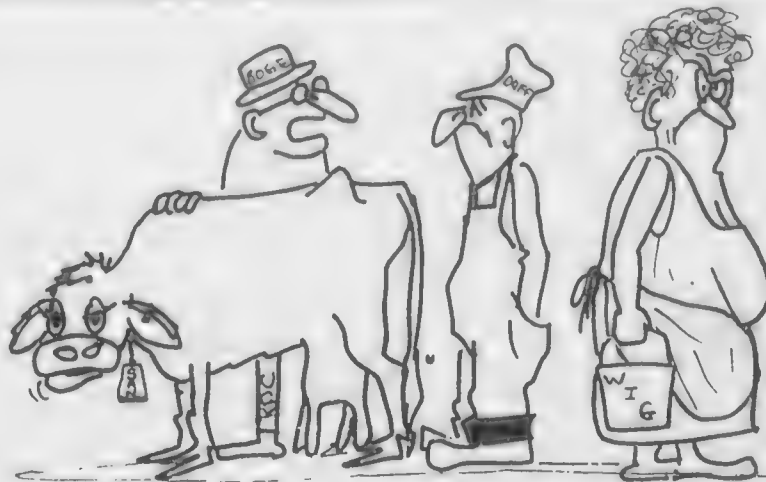

Patricia Mason, 38, was awarded an increase in monthly payments from $350 to $400. She was shot in the eye by her husband during a dispute on June 5, 1973 and lost the sight of her eye. Mason, who is responsible for a family, home and children, receives the award to compensate for expenses her income as a hairdresser does not cover. Her injury and further surgery have restricted her full earning power. Mason's husband was convicted and sentenced to four years imprisonment.

The Board also awarded $200 in legal fees. Since April 1974 Mason has received compensation for prescription drugs, ambulance costs, other medical expenses, and lost earnings. The case will be reviewed in six months.

Stefan Stojkiewicz, 52, of Edmonton was assaulted outside the York Hotel on June 18 by a man who attempted to rob him. He suffered a severely bruised right shoulder and arm, and missed several weeks of work as a cement mason. The Board awarded Stojkiewicz $1,386 for damaged clothing, prescription drugs and lost earnings. In making the award, the Board took into account unemployment insurance payments he had already received. Stojkiewicz's assailant was caught and convicted.

The CCB was established to help victims of violent crime who suffer financial loss as a result of their injuries. The chairman of the CCB is Ernest Watkins, Q.C. of Calgary.

"I don't care how good she used to be! Look at those teats! She's a broken down old bag and I'd get rid of her!"

#524 Sturgeon Air Cadets

On February 20, parents and friends gathered at the Bon Accord Community Centre as the squadron held its second promotion night. After the cadets had formed up, Lt. E. Mortimer gave a brief explanation of some of the exercises and inspection procedures for the benefit of the audience, which was much appreciated. The CO Capt. J. McHardy, then inspected the cadets of #1 Flight accompanied by Sgt. N. Porsild and A/Sgt. M.

Graca, and #2 Flight accompanied by Sgt. D. Russell and A/Sgt. M. Graca.

The list of promotions was then read out by Lt. Mortimer, and each cadet was congratulated by the CO and staff of the squadron.

LAC Annette Pyle was promoted to Acting Corporal. The following air cadets (AC's) received their promotion to Leading Air Cadets (LAC's) and the coveted propeller insignia they eagerly looked forward to wearing: Derek Stobbs, Diane Lehmann, Sandra Kennedy, Glenda Grant, Robert White, Tim Milligan, Patrick McCormack, Lindy Mabbutt, Darlene Lange, Mike McDonald, Patrick Tighe, Wayne Schwanke, Judy Grimsen, David Melville and Lawrence Mitchell. After the "props" had been given out, Capt. McHardy told the assembled cadets that this was just the first step to many things ahead for them if they were willing to work hard, attend parades and study their courses.

For the remainder of the evening, cadets had drill instruction and wrote the Bushcraft exam. Parents were invited to watch three NFB films, "Aircraft in Forest Conservation," "180 is Max," and "National Frontier." Refreshments were served to parents and cadets during the evening.

At the conclusion of promotion night the cadets formed up in their flights again. Sgt. N. Porsild was presented with an Athletic Scholarship Certificate from the Air Cadet League of Canada for the six week course he took at Brandon, Manitoba last summer.

Upcoming Events: March 7, Mock Selection Board.

Regional solid waste authority shaping up

Local mayors in Bon Accord, Legal, Morinville and Gibbons might find they will soon be asked to attend a meeting with the MD of Sturgeon on setting up a Regional Solid Waste Authority in the area.

The Provincial Government is already in the process of purchasing a 120 acre site for a regional solid waste site about two miles southwest of Morinville at SW-36-55-25-W4.

The MD will have to pass a by-law for the regional solid waste site and can also apply to the government to lease the site they are in the process of buying.

At the regular meeting of Sturgeon last week, after brief discussion it was agreed to contact the other municipal authorities on the utilization of the location. Eventual use at the site would be on a user pay basis.

After the discussions with the local mayors, Sturgeon is then expected to draw up the necessary by-law.

award given to guides who have completed a three or four year program. Provincial Commissioner Mrs. L. E. Smith brought greetings from Girl Guides of Canada and commended the girls on "months of hard work and striving." She particularly referred to the "stickability" that the girls had shown in earning the award. Edmonton Alderwoman Olivia Butti spoke of the girls' "dedication and conscientiousness" and predicted they would be outstanding citizens.

Before presenting the Cords, Lt. Gov. Ralph Steinhauer told the girls they were future "country builders" and said that helping to make a "better future for coming generations will be the guides' duty in coming years." He said that having watched the country grow through three generations, he had come to realize that all things were possible with determination. Lt. Gov. Steinhauer then presented the awards.

When asked how she had achieved these honours, Rita replied "Where there's a will there's a way." She herself is proof of this principle.

Sale of Arabians

A sale of purebred, half and Anglo Arabian Horses sponsored by the Aurora Arabian Horse Association will be held Saturday, June 17, at 1 p.m. in the Edmonton Gardens.

This is the sound of the association's annual sales and 30 select animals will be auctioned. A showing of the sale horses will be held in the Edmonton Gardens at 7 p.m. on Friday, June 16. Interested people will be able to evaluate the horses at that time.

The sale will be held in conjunction with the Aurora Arabian Horse Show from June 12 - 18.

Regional utilities study gets sour reaction

Following are some of the highlights from the regular development meeting of the MD of Sturgeon.

UTILITY PLANNERS W. Montgomery and Mike Ellis, from AESL and the Department of the Environment were before council with an outline on the Edmonton regional utilities study.

This is basically a plan to dovetail communities like St. Albert, Morinville, Bon Accord and Gibbons into a central utilities facility in Edmonton as the area's population increases over the years.

Mr. Montgomery said the whole essence of the study was to provide the best possible water supply "ignoring the political boundaries and who owns what." Then an equitable way of financing the utility had to be discovered, Mr. Montgomery pointed out.

Some points to emerge from the study are that Bon Accord is good till 1999 for ground water supplies, then Gibbons may extend its water line to Bon Accord.

A water treatment plant could possibly be built at Bruderheim to service the area in the near future, the study revealed.

As the population of Morinville grows, the study also determined the need for the extension of a water line to that community from St. Albert.

Deputy Reeve of the MD Lawrence Kluthe feared that Edmonton would have the monopoly and get all the profits if the regional utility-system went ahead. But Mr. Montgomery saw it equalizing rates across the whole region.

The study shows that the best of modern technology will be used to treat sewage effluent in the North Saskatchewan River where levels were already said to be lower because of modern treatment methods.

While Councillor Walter Wolanski said he felt there were times the (North Saskatchewan) river "is going to stop flowing, it gets so thick" Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn commented wryly about what the politicians will do with the recommendations and findings of the regional utility study: "They'll muddy her up, there is no doubt about that," he said.

It's expected that the regional utilities study will go before the cabinet for recommendations at the end of March.

THE MD decided to refuse an application for a mobile home park at NW-30-54-27-W4 from Moe Berube. Mr. Berube had been appealing against an original decision of the MD development officer to refuse the development. The MD decided not to go with the development "on this location." Mr. Kluthe was against the park because of "failure to produce sufficient evidence as to its capability and services."

THE MD moved to meet with Edmonton for the provision of a loop in the northeast water line to Sturgeon, specifically the Oliver area.

A REQUEST to reclassify a quarter section of land near Riviere Qui Barre from agricultural to residential was turned down at the development meeting.

"There must be easier and more sensible ways to deal with the problem we have with sewage," said Mr. Kluthe.

"To do anything else but turn it down would be foolish at this stage," Mr. Kluthe added.

Culture minister drops into historic convent

The Honorable Horst Schmid, minister of Culture was the guest of the Morinville Historical and Cultural Society at an informal gathering held at the Notre Dame convent February 23.

He was accompanied by Jean Marcel Duciaume, publisher of Georges Bugnet's poems, as well as Lorraine Picard and Micheline Daigault.

Norm Chalifoux and mayor of Morinville Art Stapleton and Father G. Primeau conducted Mr. Schmid and guests on a tour of this very interesting and attractive building.

The tour was followed by a smorgasbord very ably catered by Mrs. Anne Kryskow. Attending were Fr. Primeau, Norm and Jeannine Chalifoux, Art and Rhonda Stapleton, Ed and Anne Kryskow, Nick and Alice Wojtkiw and Angeline Gibault.

Mr. Schmid later pointed out that the St. Jean Baptiste Church was the first historic site declared in Alberta.

Application has been made to have the Notre Dame convent not only a classified historic site but also a provincial historic site.

He also said that it was very gratifying to see the citizens of a community so involved in restoring a building that has so much historical value that would not only benefit this generation but also future generations.

Notice of Public Hearing

The Council of the Town of Morinville, having been given authority under Section 119 of the Planning Act, R.S.A. 1970, as amended, to control development within the boundaries of the Town of Morinville by zoning, will hold a public hearing. The purpose of this bylaw is as follows: That the Zoning Map attached to and forming part of the zoning bylaw of the Town of Morinville be amended by zoning. The lands shown on the attached plan, being most of Section 3-56-25-W4, to A (Agriculture).

The proposed bylaw may be examined between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. of the office of the Municipal Secretary of the Town of Morinville. The Public Hearing will be held in the Town of Morinville office on the 28 day of March at 7:30 p.m. Written objections to the proposed bylaw will be received by the Municipal Secretary at Town office until 4:00 p.m. on the 28 day of March, 1978.

Objections shall be submitted in writing prior to the meeting. Those written objections which have been received before the designated time will be discussed at the meeting before further presentations will be recognized.

Sturgeon shows interest in Fort ambulance

While in the past few years ambulance services have sprung up in St. Albert, Bon Accord and Morinville, last week at its regular meeting, the MD of Sturgeon was asked to consider supporting a service in Fort Saskatchewan.

The reason for the request to support the proposed Fort service is that it could look after areas outside the town in the nearby County of Strathcona and Municipal District of Sturgeon.

The general feeling at the meeting was that it would not hurt the MD to find out more about the costs.

The letter concerning the ambulance service was received for information and the MD is asking for more information on the cost of the service.

Brownies observe Thinking Day

On February 22 the 1st Morinville Brownie Pack held their annual Thinking Day program. The Brownies were joined by a few parents, and Dorothy Russell (District Commissioner). The girls formed a world chain and lit candles to represent 26 of the countries that have Brownie packs.

The girls then presented Lorie Bulger with the silver foil they had collected to help pay for a wheelchair.

Small gifts were offered to the three Brownies - Donna

Henly, Shauna McPherson and Karen McElligott for collecting the most foil.

The Brownies gave Dorothy Russell a gift to show their appreciation of her attendance.

The Commissioner promoted Judy Clarke to acting commissioner and Carol Kubica to Brown Owl.

The evening was ended off by a tea and sing song. The leaders and Brownies would like to thank all those who attended for making our ceremony enjoyable.

Carnival time is rolling around again, and the many people who attended last year's extravaganza will remember all of the little people, like the one above, who made the carnival the success it was. This year, the Morinville Winter Carnival will take place on Sunday, March 19 beginning at 2 p.m.

George P. Vanier News

This week, our basketball teams played their 2A conference at Vanier on two separate nights. On Wednesday, February 22, both our boys and girls teams played Redwater in the semi finals. The Vanier girls had a very competitive game, and after winning the game, moved on to the finals on Friday.

Our boys, however, lost in their semi finals, making it, unfortunately, their last game of the year.

On Friday, the 24th, our girls played St. Mary's (Westlock), and after a very tough game, beat them 41-33. This means that Vanier girls will be going on to Zones, hosted by Vanier on March 4.

Congratulations to the team and their coach, Mr. Coderre, and we hope to see all the Vanier fans out on Saturday to cheer on our team all the way to provincials.

Winnipeg Jets to attend celebrity banquet

Several players from the Winnipeg Jets will be the special guests at a Celebrity Banquet Supper to be held in Morinville on Thursday, March 16.

Bobby Hull, Alf Nilsson, Dave Kryskow, and possibly Anders Hedberg are expected to attend. Dave Kryskow is a former resident of Morinville, son of Ed and Anne Kryskow.

The banquet, which is open to everyone, is being sponsored by the Central Sturgeon Agricultural Society and will be held at the Recreation Centre beginning at 6:30 p.m. on the 16th.

The program has been planned to especially suit the younger hockey fans. One item will be autographed hockey sticks as prizes for some of the fortunate youngsters.

Admission to the supper is $10 for adults and $7 for ages 15 years and under. Tickets, which are limited in number, may be obtained from Morinville Electronic Centre, phone 939-2000.

Morinville Memos

By Margaret Yacysen

The Lions birthday calendars have finally arrived and are being distributed this week by club members.

However the club reports that errors have been made by the printing company in the reproduction of all the calendars. Some names have been misspelled; also the entire month of January 1979 is incorrect, with names of people from another town being substituted. The actual production of the calendar was out of the control of the Lions Club members and they regret any disappointment to Morinville residents. The order for calendars for next year through the same printing company has already been cancelled.

The flag in front of the Morinville Legion disappeared on Thursday, February 23rd. Anyone with information as to its whereabouts is asked to contact Dan Clarke at 939-4256. A reward is being offered for its recovery.

Jocelyne completed her senior silver dance set by passing the Starlight Waltz and the Killian. Lise passed two gold dances, the Argentine Tango and the Quickstep. She now has just three dances left to earn her CFSA "Gold" standing for passing 21 compulsory international dances.

Thanks and appreciation are extended to Leonard Simpson of the Gateway Figure Skating Club for partnering the senior dancers.

SKATE-A-THON RESULTS

The skate-a-thon held last Sunday and sponsored by the Ag. Society was very successful with 90 skaters participating. Unofficial results indicate that approximately $2,500 is to be collected. More details will be announced later when all the pledge money is in and prizes are awarded to winners of the various categories. All skaters should note that in order to be eligible for prizes, money collected must be turned in to Morinville Electronic Centre by March 15.

The Board of Trade will meet on Monday, March 6 at 6:30 p.m. in the Historical and Culture Centre. Guest speaker will be Mr. G. Paterson of the Devonian Foundation. Anyone wishing to attend the supper meeting is asked to contact Anne Kryskow at 939-4243.

The regular community breakfast will be held at the Recreation Centre on Sunday, March 5 following the 9 o'clock and 10:30 masses.

The Christian Ladies will be serving. The meal is very reasonably priced and everyone is invited to attend.

MEET THE NEW PARISHIONER

The Parish Council would like to invite old and new parishioners to meet one another at a tea being held this Sunday, March 5 from 2 - 4 p.m., at the Recreation Centre.

Anyone having articles to donate for the Brownies rummage sale is asked to take them to 9608 - 98 Street or to phone 939-3061. The rummage sale will be held at the Recreation Centre on Tuesday, March 14 from 9 a.m. - 8 p.m.

Easter weekend and spring break for school students will overlap this year. The last day of classes at both Notre Dame and Georges P. Vanier will be on Thursday, March 23. School will resume again on Monday, April 3.

The district playoffs for the Free Throw Basketball competition, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, were held on February 25 in St. Albert.

Morinville's eight participants, boys and girls from ages 11 - 14 years, were all defeated by their counterparts from St. Albert. The winners will now advance to the regional playoff.

The Curling Club is still accepting entries for its two upcoming bonspiels. The mixed open will be held from March 7 - 12 and the Men's Open is scheduled for March 14 - 19. Entry fee is $48 per rink.

Registrations are being taken by Colleen Brisson at 939-4525.

Firefighters attend Disaster Service course

By Margaret Yacysen

A course concerning rescue during various types of disaster was recently attended by members of the Morinville Fire Department.

This course is offered by Alberta Disaster Service and sponsored by the Government of Alberta.

The Morinville Firefighters were instructed in the use of different types of knots, tripods, and pulleys as well as in casualty handling.

Practice sessions were held in which casualties were lowered from the roof of a building or through a window with the use of pulleys and ropes.

Through the Alberta Disaster Service program, the provincial government distributes five disaster kits a year.

Morinville could qualify for one of these kits by meeting the following requirements: first, the town must have 10 personnel qualified in rescue procedure; second, one of these 10 people must have attended a specific leadership course; and third, the town must have an approved disaster plan.

As a result of the disaster service course, Morinville now has 12 qualified personnel and the fire department is hoping to send one of its members to a leadership course being offered this spring. An approved disaster plan is being worked on.

The disaster kit being provided by the provincial government contains the following equipment: ropes, pulleys, chains, saws, axes, stretchers, blankets and a gas power plant with lights.

Recreation board implementing user fee

The Morinville Recreation Board held a special meeting on Thursday, February 16. The "joint use" committee met briefly to clarify the program for Notre Dame School.

Owing to the extra janitorial expenses occurring, there will be a "user fee" of 50 cents per night - paid in advance.

The Historical and Cultural Society also met with the Board, outlining the desires and programs planned for their building.

Top priority is electrical needs. More rooms will become available as furniture is procured. At the present they are trying to operate on user fees, and donations until grants are received.

The Recreation Board has had phones installed. Two of these phones are in the hallways, one in the basement and one on the first floor, to be used for emergencies. The phone number is 939-2955.

A motion was passed to buy three electric wheels for the Pottery Club, which is bursting at the seams in need of room and equipment.

Another motion was passed to pay one-third of the costs of publishing a brochure on Morinville, sponsored by the Board of Trade, subject to the approval of the draft copy.

The budget committee is also spending extra hours, trying to establish the needs and desires for the board's operation for the year.

The "Master Parks" committee are finding it difficult to meet to finalize their work. Sunday meetings have been pressed into service.

The Last Round-up

[Gibbons Senior Citizens]

We finally gathered for our annual "pancake supper". Due to terrible weather, the meeting of February 9 was cancelled.

We had a short business meeting with 38 members answering roll call. One new member, Agnes Rippon, joined.

"Thank you" cards from Lizzie Sprague and Steve Lamoureux were read. Wilfred expressed his personal thanks to George Knight as well as thanks for a sympathy card sent to himself and Annie, on the death of his sister.

A letter from Sturgeon

Senior Citizens Advisory Board, advised of a meeting to be held Friday, March 3 at 1:30 in the Recreation Centre. We are allowed three members. The annual barbecue will be held again this year at the Red Barn on May 31.

There was a letter from Executive Coast Tours "Edmonton" and one from Carriage Lane Tours of Calgary. Both specializing in "Tours for Seniors."

Mrs. Austin gave a report for the committee entitled "New Horizons." Don Mayore of New Horizons attended the meeting February 21. Items decided on so far include tables and chairs and drapes. Stoves and fridges have been priced and will be purchased, so that cupboards may be constructed.

Lillian asked for volunteer canvassers for the Cancer Society. Jeanette Petherbridge, Katie Brandle and Jean Toane volunteered.

We played some bingo. This was followed by the pancake supper. Thanks to Eula for making the batter. Cooks were George Knight, Jim Shaw, George Petherbridge and Gordon Spence. Helpers included Eula, Aure, Lillian, Cathie, Emily and Jeanette. Earl and Jean Toane, Alvin Tupper, Katie Brandle, Don Bevington, Joe and Vera Hostyn, Mollie Hall, Margaret Mabbutt made short work of the dishes. Hope I didn't miss anyone - I'm sure most of the members helped one way or another.

Needless to say, the pancakes were delicious. There was only one birthday so Eula Mabbutt was the centre of attention this month. A birthday cake was sent to Charlotte McLean of the Sunday School Circle.

It was a wonderful get together and lots of fun. Next meeting will be March 9, weather permitting! See you all then.

Gibbons 4-H Light Horse Club

By Karen Wenzel

On Sunday, January 29, the Gibbons 4H Light Horse Club held their annual public speaking speak-offs. Most of the members attended and did very well on all their speeches. For the junior members, the winner was Tanis Watrin and runner-up was Susan Buchanan. For senior members the winners were Ruth Buchanan and Maurie-Lynn Kozak as runner-up. All of the speakers did an impromptu speech afterwards which was very enjoyable and even funny.

On Tuesday, February 14, the Gibbons 4H Light Horse

Club had a meeting held at the Gibbons Legion Hut with members moving up to higher levels in riding, having their exam before the meeting. Fiona Farrell, Susan Buchanan and Karen Wenzel did their project after the exams were finished. Their project was choosing members to speak on a certain item whether it was a baby bottle or a spur. These little impromptus turned out to be successful and made people laugh. A lunch was served after the meeting.

Next meeting is Thursday, March 9 at 7:30 p.m. at Riechles.

Dog problems in Cardiff

There have been complaints from residents in Cardiff about the problem of large dogs running loose in the area. These dogs create many problems for property owners and are a nuisance in the community. Some of these problems are:

The residents constant and annoying job of cleaning up dog droppings from other peoples pets;

Overturned garbage containers and the spreading of refuse by dogs, during the early hours of the morning and late in the evenings;

Large dogs roaming free in twos and threes, chasing and biting cattle and horses in

Dogs jumping on small children and knocking them to the ground, when children are walking to and from the school bus;

Residents have been frightened away from the community mail boxes, when trying to pick up their mail;

Several people have been afraid to take a stroll around the community, in fear of these dogs, this pertains to newspaper delivery also.

Each one of these situations has happened in Cardiff this year so far, some more numerous than others. It would be greatly appreciated by many residents here if these dogs would be kept on their owner's property in the future.

Alcomdale News

By Beryl Bailey

During the week of February 7 when the storm hit with snow, wind and drifting, schools closed and people remained at home, to make matters more miserable the power went off for two hours. However, the week of the 13 has made up for the bad period of weather. Water running off the roofs and in some cases into cellars, unusual for February - however, with March just ahead we may pay up for our springlike weather.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Burrow's younger daughter, Lori, is at home after having her tonsils out earlier in the month. Mrs. Burrows spent a short visit with her parents in Sherwood Park during Lori's hospital term.

Mrs. J. M. Bailey spent a recent weekend in Spruce Grove with her cousin Mrs. N. O. and Mr. Gagne.

Mrs. J. Doidge had a pleasant surprise on Monday of last week when an old friend whom she hadn't seen for six years spent a couple of days with her. Mrs. Rose Marie Wohland of Red Deer also called on other friends she'd known in the Morinville district when she lived here.

The monthly meeting of the Alcomdale Community League was held in their hall Wednesday, February 22 with 12 members present. Business of a general nature was taken care of. Plans for the St. Patrick's Cabaret was finalized. Tickets may be had from following members - phone 939-2255 and 939-3189. It was decided to hold the annual spring supper, Sunday, April 2 in the Alcomdale Community Hall.

Two new members joined during the evening. It is to be hoped more residents of the community will join the league and help the community.

The monthly bingo of the Alcomdale Community League was held in the hall Thursday evening, February 23 with only a small attendance. No one won either the mini-jackpot nor the big jackpot. Next month the mini-jackpot will be worth $75 and the big jackpot $130 in 55 numbers or less.

The Paul Lalonde's property saw much activity early in the month when a machine for crushing old automobiles into packages arrived and did just that with the large number of old cars on the property. The machine also took care of old cars and some machinery on other property for owners. The Lalonde's block of land is up for sale, when sold the family plan on moving to Morinville.

INDEPENDENCE

Mrs. Alex Benson spent two weeks in late January and early February looking after the house and four children of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Soetaert of Villeneuve. During this period the Soetaerts' enjoyed a holiday in sunny Hawaii with two other couples.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huntley (nee Ivy Benson) are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, on February 14, Valentine's Day, at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton. Weight 7 lbs. 6 ozs. Charlene Alyn Elizabeth - a sister for Candace. Grandparent's are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Benson.

It's a beautiful sight watching young 4H members of the Light Horse Club riding with so much more control over their mounts and all walking, trotting and posting in unison. One can feel the rhythm these riders enjoy as compared to their beginning classes.

Our class on February 18 in the Riding Arena was intense, thorough and demanding. Members worked on mounts other than their own to compare the gait, rhythm, temperament and balance of other horses. Very enlightening.

A heavy schedule of classes is programmed for these students before Achievement Day. They have the basic requirements for Unit 1. Now its practise, practise, especially in trouble areas. Our instructress plans to work with each student to overcome any phase that is difficult or needing improvement.

Worms - worms. Yuk! Thank goodness they were bottled. Dr. Landals showed us samples of worms found in sick horses and also a movie on parasites in horses. The film illustrated types, causes, harmfulness, and control of such worms. Some members compared these worms to bleached string beans, quack grass roots etc. Complete comparisons were shown in the movie between healthy horses and wormy horses. Dr. Landals stressed the need for a good worming program.

Nutrition was also part of the evening classes. He gave explanations and reasons for bulk foods (hay etc.), vitamins, minerals, good water, etc. It was a very educational evening. More than ever now we know our horses are very special animals, and need

Thank you once again Dr. Landals for a very informative lesson.

LUNGEING CLINIC

We are still able to accept a few more applications for our Lungeing Clinic on Friday evening, March 17, from 7 - 10 p.m. and all day

Thibault School Board highlights

The regular meeting of the Thibault R.C.P.S.D. No. 35 was held on February 7 at 6 p.m. in the board room of the town office.

Chairman G. Bulger reported on a meeting he attended regarding the Commonwealth Games. The Board approved a request for the use of G. P. Vanier School for overflow accommodations during the Commonwealth Games if it was required.

Notice of motion was presented by Policy Committee Chairperson Mrs. Y. Leduc for policies pertaining to scholarships, awards and medals, student records, interrogations and searches, and student discipline.

Two more replies were received from service clubs regarding membership on the Vandalism Committee. The response the Board has received has been encouraging and a meeting date will be set in the near future.

A letter was received from the School Buildings Board regarding the proposed new junior high school. The Board was informed that the statement of need has been tabled pending the receipt of the registered Qualico subdivision plans.

Qualico has informed the Board that it is their hope that the plans will be approved and registered by April.

Superintendent N. Tretiak informed the Board that plans are currently being made by the staffs at G. P. Vanier and Notre Dame schools for Education Week activities. Education Week has been set for March 6-10.

After a brief discussion, Trustee M. Labonte moved that the annual meeting of Thibault R.C.P.S.D. No. 35 be held on Wednesday, March 22 at 8 p.m. in the Music Room of G. P. Vanier School. The motion was unanimously carried.

At the regular meeting of February 21, Mr. Guy Woo of Forest Glen Dixie attended to discuss the proposed junior high school site. A site near Notre Dame School was chosen and approved by the Board.

A letter was read requesting the use of Georges P. Vanier School for an adult typing class. The Board approved the request subject to a $5 fee per student for maintenance of the typewriters.

Superintendent Tretiak reported that parent-teacher interviews will take place at Notre Dame School on March 20 from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Open house activities have been planned for Education Week at both schools: Georges P. Vanier on March 8 and Notre Dame on March 9. Further details will be sent home later with the students.

The Bon Accord Raiders posted a 2-1 win over Lethbridge in a girls hockey tournament played at the Edmonton Gardens Saturday.
